BERLIN'S WEEK OF BOLSHEVIST REIGN OF TERROR ENDS

Scattered Desperadoes, Mostly Youths, and Small Bands of Liebknecht's Followers Giving Some Trouble.

UNDER DEN LINDEN SHOPS REOPENED

Property Losses High, With Much Damage Done to Government Buildings and Merchants' Stocks.

By the Associated Press.

BERLIN, Tuesday, Jan. 14.—Berlin's long week of Bolshevism is finally ended. Here and there, scattered desperadoes, mostly youths, still fire occasionally from some house-top, and during the nights attempts are made by small bands of the followers of Dr. Karl Liebknecht to revive the reign of terror. They are insignificant, however, compared with what has passed. A few Spartacists tried to recapture the Charlottenburg police headquarters the night after it was taken by Government troops.

Dr. Liebknecht's sister was arrested today, and several hundred rebels are locked up awaiting trial, which, inasmuch as martial law was not proclaimed, must be left for the regular courts.

Losses inflicted on each side during the last week are as yet estimated only roughly, but it is believed that they greatly exceed 200 dead and 1000 wounded, and an overwhelming majority of these are Bolshevists.

Police Aid Government. The reinstatement and arming of the police gives the Government a new force of trained men, who know the criminal world and whose absence during the first days of the revolution gave the disorderly element a free hand. Police records, including those of the Berlin eye, were not destroyed, as was first reported. Detectives are already rounding up old acquaintances and the work of disarming lawless elements is proceeding.

Property losses during the week of terror amount to tens of millions of marks. In addition to the damage to newspaper plants and Government buildings, merchants' losses through looting are very high, one youth being captured with 60,000 marks ($15,000) worth of jewels which he had stolen. In some streets near the police headquarters nearly every store was systematically looted.

Greased Guns With Butter. The Bolshevist troops holding the Silesian station had so much butter that they used it to grease their guns and boots.

The center of the city has been quiet all day today. Late this evening a few shots were heard in different parts of the town, being fired by snipers and looters. Merchants having shops along Unter den Linden took down their shutters and business went on generally as usual.

The Government has no intention of slackening its efforts against the Spartacists, the Abend Zeitung says. It learns from best authority. Energetic measures are being taken against the leaders of the movement. It is reported that documents found by loyal troops show that the Spartacan uprising was inspired from Moscow.

Troops Control Industrial Suburb. A cordon of troops has been thrown around the suburb of Moabit, one of the most important industrial sections of Greater Berlin, for the purpose of curbing out the work of disarming civilians and such Spartacan fighters as are still at liberty. The military measure, which is being carried out in the most drastic manner, came in the nature of a surprise action, the troops being thrown in and occupying the big industrial plants of the section which are known to be Spartacan strongholds.

Pedestrians are being halted and the houses entered by searching parties. The telephone service has been stopped for the purpose of making the siege of Moabit as airtight as possible.

This section of Berlin is notorious for its riotous tendencies and generally looked upon as a gathering place for all the criminal elements.

The employees of the Schwartzkopff works, one of the most radical bodies among the Berlin proletariats, voted today to resume work Wednesday morning. Similar action also put an end to the strike of railway employees at noon today.

Dr. Karl Liebknecht, the Spartacan leader; Georg Ledebour, head of the revolutionary Independent Socialist element; and the immediate supporters of these revolutionary chiefs were so certain that their plans for the recent uprising would succeed that they had prepared a proclamation dated Jan. 13, in which the Ebert-Scheidemann government was declared deposed and formal announcement made that the Govern-

British Army Sends Food to Women and Children of Vienna

By the Associated Press.

VIENNA, Tuesday, Jan. 14.—A SMALL body of British troops arrived here today, conveying a trainload of foodstuffs, present from the British army in Italy to the women and children of Vienna.

The British officer in command explained to the Burgomaster that the supplies were sent in recognition of the fact that Austria had treated her British prisoners with consideration, in contrast to the inhuman treatment given them by the Germans.

Three additional trainloads are to follow the first, to alleviate the needs of the women and children.

The Burgomaster told the British commander that the food had arrived at an opportune moment, as Vienna had not enough flour to last more than the next four days.

JUDGE DYER SAYS HE HAS NO USE FOR SOLDIER DECOYS

Asks Concerning Man in Uniform Who Bought Liquor From a Merchant.

Before firing John E. Jacobs, a mechanic, $25 without costs, today on a charge of selling liquor to a soldier, Judge Dyer asked Assistant Attorney-General Williams if the soldier was a "decoy" of the Government.

Williams replied that the soldier was of the regular army passing through the city on furlough.

"It's a good thing," remarked Judge Dyer, "I have no patience with this 'decoy' business."

Jacobs was arrested at Twentieth and Morgan streets on a charge of buying two pints of whiskey for the soldier who had given him $3. When he returned to where the soldier had been found two detectives awaiting him.

ROOSEVELT DAY IN MISSOURI

Gardner Designates Feb. 9 for Memorial.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Jan. 15.—Gov. Gardner today designated Feb. 9 as Roosevelt Memorial day in the following statement:

"Feb. 9 has been set aside by the Congress of the United States for the purpose of honoring the memory of the late Col. Theodore Roosevelt. It is most fitting that this day be observed in Missouri as Roosevelt Memorial day and that the people wherever assembled pay tribute to his memory. His rugged honesty, his vigorous defense of the principles of life and governments which he believed to be right and just, and his loyal and ultra-Americanism, command their admiration and respect. I hope that on this day which the Congress has set apart the splendid lessons to be drawn from the life of this great patriot may be impressed not only on the minds of the citizens of the State, but upon the minds of the children as well."

MAYOR KIEL ON U. R. FINANCE AND STREET CAR SERVICE

Says Company Can Now Finance Itself, but Fails to Show How This Is to Improve Street Car Service.

HIS ONLY CONCERN WAS TO GET MILL TAX

Administration's Deal With Company Made in Time to Permit Company to Raise Fund to Meet Federal Loan Shortly Falling Due.

By the Associated Press.

Having declared in his statement Saturday which accompanied announcement of the deal between the city and United Railways and in subsequent newspaper interviews that the company now would be able to finance itself, Mayor Kiel was asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter yesterday to explain what he meant by "finance itself."

In his Saturday statement the Mayor said: "It is hoped to establish the franchise of the company to such an extent that it may borrow money and finance itself."

In newspaper interviews yesterday, he stated: "The company will be able to finance itself, for the reason that a cloud no longer hangs over its franchise." He added that in his opinion a receivership had been averted.

"What do you mean by the term 'finance itself'?" he was asked.

"I will not discuss the settlement beyond my previous statements and to add that I believe it a good thing for the City of St. Louis," he replied.

How Finance Itself?

"Does 'finance itself' mean that the company now will be able to improve its service, to buy new street cars, or take the flat wheels off the old ones, or pay the mill tax or pay its $3,250,000 indebtedness to the Government, or what?" he was asked.

"You know as well as I do that the company has got to pay the Government about $3,250,000 and to pay the city about $250,000 at once," he replied.

"Does 'finance itself' mean that the company now will be enabled to buy more cars or remove flat wheels?" he was asked again.

"The only thing I was concerned in was that the city should get the mill tax," he replied. "As far as those details are concerned you will have to ask Daues or the company attorneys. I decline to discuss the matter."

Another Post-Dispatch reporter sought President McCulloch for the company to ask him questions concerning how the company would go about financing itself.

McCulloch was in good humor and he said, that he was in receptive mood for questions of any kind dealing with the company's problem that he could answer.

He was asked how much money the company intended to borrow, how it would go about obtaining it, if by further increased fare or bond issue, if it would borrow money to pursue the matter of financing it, or if it would borrow money to take up maturing bonds and to repay the Government loan of $3,250,000, negotiated for six months last June, and now overdue, and what would be done for better service.

"I can answer all those questions in a few words," he answered: "I do not know yet; nobody knows. The financial problems of a great utilities corporation like the United Railways are so complex that it would be impossible to state off-hand what procedure would be best to pursue in the matter of financing it. In our case a reorganization of the company may be necessary for all that we now know. However, we shall go to work at once on some feasible plan."

"Do you intend to ask the State Public Service Commission for authority to increase fares above six cents?" the reporter asked.

"We have not decided how we shall raise money or increase our revenue," McCulloch answered. "The board of directors and the finance committee are now handling the problem and they have not met since our settlement with the city."

Company Needed Money.

"All that we can say at present," he continued, "is that the city and the company are now friends; all difficulties between us have been swept away, and this, added to the Supreme Court decision that the State Public Service Commission has jurisdiction in the regulation of public utilities, particularly in matters of financing and rates, gives us a good foundation on which to build a substantial structure."

Current Magazines Also Placed on Transports by American Library Association.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—American soldiers boarding transports for the United States are met with newspapers from their home state less than two weeks old and with American magazines fresher than any they have seen since they reached France. From overseas dispatch offices at Hoboken, Newport News, Boston and Charleston, S. C., it was announced today the American Library Association is stocking all transports with current magazines and papers and with permanent libraries.

The latest editions obtainable of about 20 newspapers from all sections of the country are put aboard each transport just before leaving the American port.

Although the service libraries for American soldiers overseas now contain more than 1,750,000 volumes, the library association announced it would continue to augment the libraries, as the men now have more time to read and books are in greater demand.

ITALIAN LABOR MISSION HERE FOR 2-DAY STAY

Delegates Were Members of Socialist Party Which Forced Country Into War Against Germany.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—American soldiers boarding transports for the United States are met with newspapers from their home state less than two weeks old and with American magazines fresher than any they have seen since they reached France. ## DELEGATES WERE MEMBERS OF SOCIALIST PARTY WHICH FORCED COUNTRY INTO WAR AGAINST GERMANY.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—The Italian Labor Mission, which is touring the United States visiting labor organizations, particularly those containing workers of Italian birth and ancestry, arrived here this morning from Kansas City and took rooms at Hotel Jefferson, for a two days' stay.

Through some misunderstanding, the Chamber of Commerce and labor organizations were not notified of the time of the mission's arrival, and no one met the visitors at Union Station. When the Chamber of Commerce was informed of their presence here, they were at once invited to the members' conference luncheon at Hotel Statler today, and plans for further hospitality were made.

The mission is composed of Socialists, several of whom, including the chairman, Alessio di Ambris, have been imprisoned or exiled for their political and labor activities. They represent the now dominant Italian Socialist Union, which supported Italy's declaration of war in 1915. Only one of the members has no military record, he having been physically disqualified for service.

Interested in Mooney.

Two members, Amilcare di Ambris, brother of the chairman, and Vico Fiorini, went from Kansas City to Chicago to attend a meeting in behalf of Thomas J. Mooney, the San Francisco prisoner whose sentence was commuted from death to life imprisonment, at President Wilson's request. All the members of the mission are taking an interest in the Mooney case, and they made special inquiry into the case during their recent stay in San Francisco.

Chairman di Ambris is secretary of the Italian Socialist Union, and said that this union had arisen out of a split in the old Socialist organization, caused by the pro-German and Bolsheviki element. The pro-German element is now in complete eclipse, he said, and he predicted that the Bolsheviki would not become a controlling power in Italian Socialism.

He said he had observed that American labor, although its activities have hitherto been largely economic, was tending toward political activity, like that of labor in Italy. He commented on the difference between the form of labor organization in this country, with its closely specialized unions, and in Italy, where all the workers in one industry unite in one general body.

Two of the delegates, Adolfo Pedemonte and Major-General Leonard Wood, now commanding Camp Funston, Kansas, to proceed to Chicago and take command of the Central Department were issued today by the War Department. He will succeed Major-General Barry, who was ordered from Chicago to take command of the Eastern Department at New York, following the death of Major-General Bell.

33 STATES VOTE FOR DRY AMENDMENT, LEAVING ONLY 3 NECESSARY TO RATIFY

Iowa, Oregon and Colorado Join List for Federal Prohibition—One House in Each of 4 Other Legislatures Has Acted Favorably.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—The Legislatures of three more states—Iowa, Oregon and Colorado—today ratified the Federal prohibition amendment, making 33 which have done so.

Only three states are lacking to make up the three-fourths majority required to ratify the amendment and it is possible they will act this week.

Western states the Legislatures of which are in session but have not yet ratified the amendment follow: Utah, New Mexico, Wyoming, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Missouri. In Nevada the Legislature meets Monday. The Wisconsin Senate today ratified the amendment and the Assembly will act Friday.

In Minnesota dry leaders in the Legislature were making strenuous efforts today to ratify by tomorrow.

The states which have ratified the amendment are: Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, Mississippi, Montana, North Dakota, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia, Washington and West Virginia.

In Nebraska and Utah one House of the Legislature acted favorably on the amendment yesterday, and final action was fixed for today in the other.

A writ issued by the Superior Court of San Francisco was served on the Governor of California yesterday restraining him from referring to the Secretary of State at Washington the Legislature's ratification of the amendment.

Stand of California Wets.

An alternative writ requiring the California Governor to appear in court next Monday and show cause why the order should not be made permanent was issued. Both orders were granted on petition of Ephraim Brown, a grape grower. His argument upon which the writs were obtained was that a constitutional referendum is applicable to every action of the California Legislature and that the Federal constitutional amendment was not proposed originally by two-thirds of each House of Congress.

Word that the writs had been issued was telegraphed to the Sheriff of Sacramento County and he was asked to inform the Governor of the facts immediately.

Six states yesterday completed ratification of the amendment. They were Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas, Alabama and North Carolina.

Distillers' Contentions.

The distillers' committee recently named to fight national prohibition effected a permanent organization here yesterday.

Samuel Woolner, Peoria, Ill., was made chairman; Henry M. Naylon, St. Louis, secretary.

DRY RATIFICATION BY MISSOURI IS LIKELY TOMORROW

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 15.—The House this morning adjourned tomorrow, so no action on prohibition will be taken by that body today. Dry leaders of the House early in the day held conferences to discuss the change in plan for the ratification of the Federal prohibition amendment tomorrow and push through the action today to make certain that Missouri would be one of the first 36 states to ratify.

The question will be taken up in the Missouri Senate and House by special order tomorrow at 10:30 a. m.

So far as can be ascertained, opposition to ratification in Missouri has collapsed, and there are many indications that about the only votes which will be recorded against it will be those of city members representing very wet districts.

Representative Frank H. Farris of Holt, for many years considered the strongest opponent of prohibition in the Legislature, said today that he was not fully decided how he would vote on ratification, and that he was thinking seriously of voting for it.

There are no indications here of a movement for a referendum on ratification, as there is in some states. Representative Farris, a lawyer, said he did not believe a referendum would be held.

It is the expectation of leaders that the amendment will be ratified without debate.

MOLASSES TANK EXPLODES; AT LEAST 10 PERSONS KILLED

Several Buildings Demolished and Number of Trucks Overturned in Boston Yards.

BOSTON, Jan. 15.—At least 10 persons are known to have been killed by the explosion of a storage tank of molasses in the freight yard near Cutts wharf, off Commercial street, today.

The explosion blew away two of the supporting pillars of the Atlantic Avenue elevated railway structure, demolished several buildings, blew an electric freight car off the track, overturned a number of heavily loaded trucks and killed about a dozen horses.

The men who were killed were teamsters and employees of the city who were at work in the city Street Department yard adjoining the electric freight yard where the explosion occurred.

The molasses spread over the street to a depth of two or three inches. Many of those killed or injured were covered with molasses and could not be readily identified.

It moved to another site, and its royalty to an oil company and today began the distribution of $200,000 to the various Baptist organizations in the State.

ORD CECIL GIVES DETAILS OF PLAN FOR WORLD LEAGUE

British Statesman Would Admit Germany if She Reform—Says Moral Force Would Be the Great Power

CONFERENCE WOULD HAVE PREVENTED WAR

Declares That if Facts Had Been Known No Nation Could Have Forced Its People to Fight.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Lord Robert Cecil, who discussed with American journalists last night his views as to the work of a league of nations, expressed the opinion that the league of nations certainly would provide for the limitation and decrease of present armaments. He declared this feature of the work to be done is of deepest concern, although no definite argument has yet been reached. He said that the league, if formed, would do away with all treaties inconsistent with its tenets, including compacts providing for a balance of power.

Asked what effect the formation of a league of nations would have upon the Monroe Doctrine, Lord Robert asserted he could see no conflict with the doctrine. Hypothetical questions were raised as to what would happen in case Mexico or a Southern country did something that caused trouble with the league, and Lord Robert replied:

"Then I think an arrangement could be made by which America could act in behalf of the league. Returning to the admission of the Central Powers and their allies to the league, Lord Robert Cecil said they should be admitted 'if they showed an inclination to do the right thing.'"

For Good of Humanity. Speaking of Germany, he said: "We must await events. If she turns over a new leaf and tries to repair the damage she has done, there is no reason why she should not join. The league is for the good of humanity, and not for any select group. It will benefit her if we permit her to enter."

Austria is not yet ready for the league, Lord Robert said. Dealing with another specific instance, he declared, Bohemia "was not to blame for the war and is progressive."

Lord Robert said that the league might in some cases take over administrative control of certain territories of great international interest. He said that Palestine and Constantinople might be in this class. He stated that he accepted President Wilson's view that the league must be constituted by the present peace conference, adding: "Otherwise it will become an impossibility."

Lord Robert felt that the peace conference should get approval of principles at the beginning of the meeting but was of the opinion that the details should be worked out with care by committees which should report to the peace conference.

Questioned as to the attitude of the allies as a whole toward the league, Lord Robert said that every one of them favored a league of some sort but that they were not separated by any vital point.

Might Have Avoided War. As to the scope of the league, he said there were still many purely legal disputes between nations which he thought ought to be settled by an arbitration tribunal outside the league. In discussing the probable efficacy of the plan to force the nations to bring their disputes before the tribunal of the league, Lord Robert declared: "If we had had a conference on the reply of Serbia to Austria and had not allowed them to fight for a set period there would have been no war. If the situation had been known to the world no nation could have forced its people to fight."

At the outset Lord Robert offered his definition of a league of nations as follows:

"An improved association of nations providing safeguards for peace and the securing of better international cooperation."

The basis of a league of nations as conceived by Lord Robert may be epitomized as follows:

"An agreement among nations by which each nation binds itself to accept all warlike disputes as presented to the league's tribunal for consideration and the use of force to accomplish this if necessary."

Quarrels are thus under consideration for a specified time and further time is to elapse after a decision has been reached before the convention countries shall be allowed to go to war. If the situation has been reached before the decision is to be the ultimate factor employed to prevent war.

Public Opinion the Power. In amplification Lord Robert asserted that an international army and navy were not feasible at this time. Nations, he said, were not ready to surrender their sovereignty to a league of nations to the extent that they will be willing to allow a league to dictate whether they should employ their forces in the settling of a quarrel which the tribunal had been unable to prevent by moral suasion. Lord Robert Cecil said he believed, however, that each nation should bind itself to use all means, even force, in order to compel the dispute to be brought before the league's tribunal.

"The preservation of peace would be the normal function of the league," said Lord Robert. "In case of a quarrel the league could only express an opinion, because an international army is not feasible for settling disputes which power behind the league would be police control but the weight of public opinion. Public opinion, however, would be sufficient to insure at least that any future disputes—that is, there would never be another war like the present one."

Lord Robert would not go so far as to say there would be no more wars, but he expressed confidence that they would be confined to the immediate disputants. "In the daily life of any country," Lord Robert continues, "it is public opinion which controls the conduct of the people. You have yourself seen that even in cases where law and public opinion clash, public opinion wins."

As to the machinery of a league of nations, Lord Robert said that there should be an international secretariat operating permanently to carry on the routine business between meetings of the main international tribunal. The main tribunal would meet periodically, perhaps every month or six weeks, to handle matters of moment.

International Co-operation. Lord Robert attached great importance to international co-operation in all non-controversial matters. This co-operation, he said, should be promoted to the utmost and would have its effect on financial affairs, the development of shipping and all international waterways. He pointed out that this would make for international peace. In this connection Lord Robert stated he believed every nation had a right to an outlet to the sea.

"The world cannot longer live, each nation by itself," said Lord Robert. "The league of nations will systematize and concentrate international co-operation."

Natives to international co-operation, he said, that for some time to come there must be international co-operation in food matters and that there may be some pressing questions relative to raw materials. On this point he said that for some time to come there must be international co-operation in food matters and that there may be some pressing questions relative to raw materials.

One point upon which the Americans will insist, it is understood, is that whatever project is adopted it shall be included in the treaty which officially terminates the world war.

PAYMENT OF INTEREST HOLDS UP SALE OF MERCANTILE CLUB

The sale at auction of the Mercantile Club, Seventh and Locust streets, advertised to take place at noon today to satisfy a default mortgage bond issue of $200,000, was canceled shortly before the designated hour, when the American Trust Co., trustee for second mortgage bondholders, announced that it had received $500 additional interest in the sale proceeding and advertising expenses.

The American Trust Co. represents clients who hold second mortgage bonds on the property, which interest of $2500 was also defaulted, Nov. 11 last, and paid the interest on the first mortgage today, presumably to protect the second mortgage.

Default on interest of the first mortgage occurred Sept. 11 last. Since Nov. 6 the property has been in charge of Charles W. Cobb, president of the Glencoe Lime and Cement Co., receiver, and efforts at redemption of the property have been under way for several weeks, but have not materialized. George R. Barclay, secretary of the Reorganization Committee, said these efforts would be reduced.

Then we continued our discussion of the procedure for the conference, notably the representation of the small Powers. ## REFERENDUM CAN'T CONTROL LEGISLATURES

Former Liquor Men's Attorney Says Congress' Method of Ratification Rules.

A prominent lawyer, who for years has represented liquor interests in the fight against prohibition, and who for obvious reasons would not permit the use of his name, today gave the Post-Dispatch his opinion that there is no basis for a plan of liquor interests to invoke the referendum in states which have ratified the Federal prohibition amendment and which have state referendum laws.

Disputes today stated that a Disfranchisement Committee, recently formed in Chicago to fight national prohibition, would meet and discuss such referendum plans, and that in California, where the Legislature has ratified the Federal prohibition amendment, the Governor has been temporarily restrained from certifying the Legislature's ratification to the Secretary of State.

"The question now presented by the suggestion that under the referendum power in the Missouri Constitution a Federal constitutional amendment be referred to the Missouri General Assembly, can be referred to the people for a vote, involves the proposition that a state by amending its Constitution after its admission to the Union can so far as it is concerned change the method of its action in adopting or rejecting a Federal amendment from the mode provided by the Federal Constitution."

GREECE SETS OUT HER TERRITORIAL CLAIMS

Memorandum to Peace Conference Names Northern Epirus and Thrace.

By the Associated Press.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—Greece has laid before the peace conference a memorandum signed by Premier Venizelos, setting forth the situation of Greece and her claims in the settlement of the war. The memorandum says the Hellenic nation consists of 3,244,000 persons of whom 85 per cent live in the kingdom of Greece and the remainder outside its limits. Half a million Greeks in America are included in the figures submitted.

Wishes to restore the Greek population in the Balkans, Asia-Minor and the islands adjacent to the kingdom, Greece asks, first, Northern Epirus, which contains 120,000 Greeks against 35,000 Albanians. The memorandum says that the former, besides being in the majority, also "possesses a higher form of civilization."

As a second demand, Greece asks for Thrace, according to the memorandum, is peopled largely by Greeks. "Since Constantinople, according to the twelfth point of President Wilson's program, cannot remain under Turkish rule," the memorandum declares, "the natural solution would be to award Constantinople to Greece and to establish international guarantees for the freedom of the straits."

Constantinople's Population. It is pointed out that the principal native element of the population of Constantinople is Greek, being numerically greater than "all the other nationalities put together except the Turks."

"But, if a society of nations is established immediately," the memorandum continues, "Constantinople might, in consequence of great international interests connected with the possession of the straits, be formed as a separate entity by the Society of Nations, which would nominate its government for certain fixed periods."

The third demand, Greece asks for by Greece is for parts of vilayets in Asia Minor. These have a population, it is said, of 1,188,000 Greeks against 1,042,000 Mohammedans are claimed to be both geographically and historically integral parts of Greece.

AMERICANS' PROPOSALS FOR LEAGUE OF NATIONS MOST DRASTIC OF ALL

U. S. Delegates' Plan Provides for Submission of Facts to Every Parliament Which Is Regarded as Best War Preventive.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.

Special Cable to the New York Evening Post and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Jan. 14.—Our numerous conversations or discussions as to the league of nations have made certain fundamentals clear. The American method has been to discover in plans of other nations on what parts they agree, leaving till a later discussion all differences. The feeling can be said to be unanimous as to these things:

1. No supernational executive power lodged in individual nations.

2. No federation of states under an international cabinet, legislature or judiciary.

3. No supernational police force with permanent high command of army or navy.

The British plans thus far published indicate a desire to leave each nation freedom of action to determine for itself whether the mandates of the league are just. The French view has hardly crystallized. Some members of the French delegation are advocating a league much stronger than the British plan, but others are doubtful of the practical application of the idea of the league. These men argue for an association ruled by a new balance of power.

American Plan Drastic.

The trend of opinion inside the most drastic of plans, by permitting If as under the British scheme, war is postponed for one year while disputes are being investigated, then, Americans ask, why cannot war be postponed entirely. If to engage in a war for a year is yielding sovereignty temporarily, then there is no objection from the American point of view, to permanent agreement prohibiting war.

The objection raised by Gen. Smuts plan is that a league, by permitting recourse to hostilities, or leaving loopholes for war at the end of a year, legalizes war. It would not be surprising to see Americans advocating an association of nations which would not do with the tenure of conditions and had no connection with the office of Special Assistant Attorney-General Charles P. Williams.

In political circles there is speculation that his visit to Washington was to do with the tenure of his office or possible reappointment, his term having expired.

U. S. Plan Revised Daily. It is obvious that President Wilson expects to wait to see the proposals of France and Great Britain before submitting the American plan, which is undergoing revisions day by day, according as it is able to bring other countries into agreement on fundamental points. It begins to look as if Mr. Wilson may obtain a declaration of the general principles of the league before he leaves for America.

The obvious trend of the American plan is to make it a permanent continental plan, wherein the President will explain to the American people what he has been endeavoring to do at the peace conference, here the strength of American public opinion behind such innovations. It may be found necessary to include in the League of Nations in order to make it workable or make it satisfactory to our associates. It seems certain that the President will return on his return and that he may possibly make a few public speeches in the East.

But it seems to be the impression that he will take the American people into his confidence on the large questions dealt with in the peace conference for the purpose, first, if it is necessary for him to come back to Europe, to reveal to statesmen here the strength of American public opinion behind him; second, the readiness of the American people to make necessary sacrifices of their previous customs and precedents in order to insure a world peace.

All these plans are subject to change, but the outlook at present is that Mr. Wilson will bring home a declaration of principles which will form the main basis of the actual peace treaty, which will be concluded late in the summer.

UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE IS ISSUE IN BELGIUM

Reformers Want Plural Votes of Clergy and Landowners Eliminated.

Correspondence of the Associated Press.

BRUSSELS, Dec. 20.—Belgium is facing a crisis in its political history. The present Government comprised of six Catholics, three Liberals and three Socialists, is acknowledged everywhere to be only a provisional one, a Government of transition. A real Government which will direct the reconstruction of Belgium is in the making.

It is not expected that elections can be held in less than six months. Meanwhile the political fight will be waged upon a basis of universal suffrage—one man, one vote. Before the war the priests had four votes, land owners and nobles as many votes as they had estates in different provinces, and Socialists and Liberals only one vote each. The Socialists were mostly working men and the Liberals mostly professional men. This enabled the Catholic party to be in power for more than 40 years. Under the universal suffrage system which would relegate priests and land owners to the same category as workmen, doctors and lawyers, it is asserted the Catholic party may be placed in the minority. Nevertheless Cardinal Mercier's great personality and the energy he displayed in behalf of Belgians during the war is said to have greatly helped the cause of the Catholic party.

One cause of bitterness and animosity in Belgium is the Flemish movement which now is practically dead owing to the efforts of the late German Gov. von Bissing to make use of it to divide Belgium into two parts. It is expected that the Flemish movement will revive when life resumes normal conditions, but it is held in abeyance now through fear that it might be construed as German propaganda. King Albert, in his speech to the Parliament after returning to Brussels announced that the Government will propose a bill to create the bases of a Flemish unity party at Ghent, reserving the details to the new Parliament to be elected later.

Pro-Germans and "activists" who supported the German scheme to drive a wedge between the Flemish and the Walloons in Belgium are now ostracized socially. Many arrests have been made in Brussels, Ghent and Bruges. The people of Ghent divide their hatred and bitterness between the Germans and the "activists." Bruges is filled with a deep-rooted hatred of everything German, while Brussels ridicules both pro-Germans and "activists."

In Bruges 153 women who dealt with Germans were beaten and their hair was shorn. In Ghent pro-Germans and "activists," both men and women, were physically punished.

VANCE M'CORMICK RESIGNS AS DEMOCRATIC COMMITTEE HEAD

Homer Cummings of Connecticut Expected to Succeed Him at Election to Be Held Feb. 25.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Vance C. McCormick, who is now in Paris to assist representatives at the peace conference, has resigned as chairman of the Democratic National Committee. Headquarters announced today that a meeting would be held Feb. 25 to elect a successor to McCormick. Homer S. Cummings, vice chairman, is expected to be the new chairman.

Reports that McCormick might become Ambassador to France were said in official quarters today to be premature, at least. Ambassador Sharp, now in this country, expects to return to Paris shortly and is said to have no present intention of resigning.

TWO LOSE $140 IN SWINDLE

Visitors Saw Visions of Fortune in Raising Sheep.

Paul Kerr and Meyer Kinner, visitors from Rushville, Ill., told detectives last night how they had been swindled out of $70 each by a bogus sheep rancher from Oklahoma. They told how they had met the supposed rancher at the Garni Hotel, Jefferson avenue and Olive street, and how he had held forth to them golden prospects of the life of sheep herders in the West and had offered to lead them to his ranch where, he said, all they would have to do would be to gather in the golden fleece.

He took them to the Merchants' Exchange and told them to wait outside while he looked after the shipment of lambs from the South. He came out in a few minutes and displayed a $1000 check. He said the banks were closed and that he had to have $150 to pay "inspection charges."

They each donated $70 and he let them hold the check while he went inside again. They had been waiting several hours for him to come out again when a policeman came along and patiently listened to their story.

Ore Import Restrictions Removed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Import restrictions on iron ore, chrome ore and cinnabar, manganese ore, copper ore and concentrates and monazite sand, were removed yesterday by the War Trade Board. Licenses also will be issued freely for the importation from Great Britain of ferro-manganese covering shipments contracted for by American consumers prior to April 6, 1917.

SALVATION ARMY OPENS ITS HOTEL FOR ARMY AND NAVY MEN

Old Nurses' Training School at 1224 Dillon Street Remodeled and Fitted With 50 Beds.

The Salvation Army took the old Nurses' Training School at 1224 Dillon street, which had been vacant 10 years, remodeled, refitted and refurnished it, and yesterday opened it as a hotel for men who have been and who are still in the army, navy and marine corps. The new name is "The Salvation Army Soldiers' and Sailors' Hotel," and it is modern except in one respect—the prices.

The first floor might be that of any comfortably appointed home. There is a reception room, a smoking room, a writing room and library, and a music room, each of which contains many large, inviting chairs. The light is somewhat softened by colorful curtains, and the dark woodwork and the tinted walls blend artistically.

The second and third floors are given over to sleeping quarters, but the halls afford two large lounging places. Most of the rooms, of which there are 15, house three men, single iron beds being used with plain mission furniture. The walls throughout are relieved by pictures, and each chamber is carpeted.

A dressing room, shower, room, dining room and kitchen are in the basement. Forty meals may be served at a time, at stated periods. However, a celebrated Salvation Army doughnut may be had at any hour, day or night, for the asking.

When men express a desire to pay for either food or lodging, a small charge is made. But the same welcome is extended each man, whether or not he has money. A seven-seater automobile is in service between the hotel and Union Station, and transportation is furnished free. At the opening, in addition to Salvation Army members and the dog, there were 24 "overseas" men from Jefferson Barracks.

There are 50 beds in the hotel, and that many men can be conveniently accommodated, but Adit Sharp said that irrespective of the number of guests in the place, no man applying for shelter would ever be denied it under any circumstances.

Marriage to Louis Lee Arms, Formerly of St. Louis, Confirmed.

St. Louis friends of Louis Lee Arms, formerly a sporting and dramatic writer for St. Louis newspapers, have received confirmation of previous reports of his marriage to Mae Marsh, one of the best known of moving picture stars.

The marriage took place about four months ago, when Arms was on the sporting staff of the New York Tribune. At about the same time Arms enlisted in the Aviation Corps, and was sent to California. His bride is also in California. She first came into prominence by her acting in "The Birth of a Nation," and she was starred in the later Griffith production, "Intolerance." She has been featured in numerous other productions, and has been called "the Maude Adams of the movies."

BIDS ON GROCERIES FOR CITY SHOW GENERAL REDUCTIONS

Canned Goods for Next Three Months Will All Be Lower; Eggs and Butter Higher.

The city's grocery bill for the next three months will be lower than for the last three months. ## TRUCK CRASHES INTO WINDOW

Jeweler's Wares Scattered and $75 Worth Is Missing.

In attempting to avoid striking a negro, Philip Weber, 3618 South Broadway, driving a truck at Fifteenth street and Franklin avenue, at 6 p. m. yesterday, ran over a dog belonging to the woman, lost control of the machine and smashed into Louis Gaskins' jewelry shop show window at 1504 Franklin avenue. Jewelry on display was scattered over the sidewalk and a scuffle among a crowd resulted in the loss of $75 worth.

ORGANIZING WOLF HUNT ON AN ISLAND NORTH OF ST. LOUIS

Mayor of Machens, Mo., Says Farmers Have Lost Poultry and Meat From Smokehouses.

Mayor T. S. Isemann of Machens, Mo., a town on the Missouri River north of this city, is organizing a wolf hunt to take place next week with a view to exterminating a pack that inhabits Machens Island, in the Missouri River, two miles south of the town. The animals have been marauding at night and farmers complain of losing poultry and meats from smokehouses.

Several of the animals were seen prowling in the vicinity of the town last night, and watchers, with bonfires to keep warm, were stationed on the outskirts by the Mayor to frighten the animals away. The wolves have been on the island for about two years and were first observed there after an ice floe had passed down the river, on which they are thought to have come from the north.

Under this committee there will be established two boards—first, a technical board, on which Mr. Stevens (John F. Stevens, American engineer) will serve and, second, a military board."

MAN CHASING TWO ROBBERS IS SHOT BY ANOTHER PURSUER

Later Pair Are Arrested After a Saloon Was Held Up and Are Identified as Restaurant Thieves.

James John, 40 years old, of 1313 North Grand avenue, was shot in the right side last night when he was chasing two robbers from Nick Anderson's restaurant at 1012 North Garrison avenue. The wound was inflicted by Hannibal Dickson of 1013 North Garrison avenue, who was shooting at the robbers. John was removed to the Baptist Hospital and Dickson was arrested.

When the robbers entered the restaurant James Thomas, the cook, ran next door to the saloon and informed the customers of the hold-up. The robbers were leaving, after having taken $9 from the cash register and $12 from John and were being pursued by John when Dickson ran from the saloon and began firing. The robbers escaped.

Two hours later two highwaymen entered Arthur Spellmeyer's saloon, 2832 Easton avenue, and ordered the proprietor and James June, a former policeman of 2901 Franklin avenue, to hold up their hands. June knocked one of the robbers down and

OBJECT TO "BUYING WHOLE LEGISLATURE"

County Towns Refuse to Contribute at Request of New Constitution League.

The League of Municipalities of St. Louis County, composed of the incorporated towns of Kirkwood, Webster Groves, Maplewood, Richmond Heights, Clayton, University City and Ferguson, is not going to contribute $15 for each 1000 inhabitants to a fund to defray the expenses of the New Constitution League of Missouri.

At a meeting of the county organization yesterday afternoon in the office of the president, J. H. Kinealy, Mayor of Ferguson, the secretary, C. C. Wolff, City Attorney of Clayton, was instructed to notify Sidney J. Roy of Hannibal, secretary of the New Constitution League, that the League of Municipalities of St. Louis County does not see fit at this time to advance money on the terms suggested by the league.

The question was brought up by Mayor August Heman of University City, who said that at a recent meeting of Mayors in Kansas City, officers of the New Constitution League had predicted that the organization would need $30,000 or $40,000 to meet the expense of getting a new State Constitution presented to and adopted by the Legislature. It was decided that in order to raise the necessary fund an assessment of $15 per 1000 inhabitants be levied against the municipalities, according to the 1910 census.

$12,000 St. Louis' Share.

"That would mean," said Mayor Heman, "that St. Louis would have to contribute $12,000 to the fund. Everybody is willing to work for the new Constitution. Why should we have to raise enough money to buy the whole Legislature?"

It was suggested by Robert C. Powell, City Attorney of Kirkwood, that the League of Municipalities write the New Constitution League a letter of protest against the proposed assessment.

The population of Missouri in 1910 was given as 3,293,335. At the rate of $15 for each 1000 inhabitants the proposed fund would amount to about $49,399.

The St. Louis County Gas Co. and the State Public Service Commission were the subject of some discussion. It developed that an order by the commission for the gas company to reduce its rate of service from $1.40 per 1000 cubic feet to $1.30 did not mean a reduction of 10 cents, as it appeared. It was explained that the company, under the $1.40 rate, had been allowing a discount of 5 per cent, which brought the cost down to $1.33. No discount was allowed for in the Public Service Commission's order for reduction, so that the net rate now is only 3 cents per 1000 feet lower than it was before.

"No wonder the gas company is not hollering," said Mayor Kinealy. "Coal and coke are costing the company $2 a ton less at that."

More Fire Protection Urged.

The league members decided to take up the gas situation with the Public Service Commission.

Better fire protection for the municipalities was suggested by Roy M. B. Tidd, Mayor of Webster Groves, who said the Algonquin Golf Club was destroyed by fire yesterday. Tidd said that the Legislature should be petitioned for an enabling act giving the municipalities authority to levy a special tax for the maintenance of efficient fire departments. The question was referred to a committee composed of M. F. O'Brien, City Attorney of Maplewood; Robert C. Powell, City Attorney of Kirkwood, and James H. Amos, City Attorney of University City.

Other matters referred to the same committee include a proposition to demand a 30-day notice from individuals and corporations filling damage suits against municipalities with a population of 30,000 or less.

Merchants' License Tax.

A committee composed of C. C. Wolff, John H. Dowdall, City Attorney of Ferguson, and John A. Noble, City Attorney of Webster Groves, was appointed to study the question of adopting a uniform merchants' license tax, a revision of the method of imposing street and sewer tax so that property owners can pay the cost of such improvements on the installment plan instead of in a lump sum, as they are compelled to do now, and the question of collecting from the State money to pay for the education of orphans.

Mayor Heman pointed out that 150 children from the Mothers' and Babies' Home at 6600 Washington boulevard were attending the public schools of University City, and that the home, as a charitable institution, was exempt from taxation.

The committees were instructed to study the various questions and to make recommendations at the next meeting, which is to be held at the American Annex, Feb. 28.

JOSEPH M. HAYES DIES WHILE AT BANK DIRECTORS' MEETING

Joseph M. Hayes, 72 years old, of 4389 Lindell boulevard, a retired woolen merchant and a director of the Mechanics-American Bank, died suddenly yesterday in the directors' room of the bank, where he had gone to attend the annual stockholders' meeting. Death is believed to have been due to heart disease, from which he had suffered several years.

Hayes came to St. Louis from Chicago in 1872 and started a business which was incorporated as the Joseph M. Hayes Woolen Co., in 1884. About 10 years ago this corporation was dissolved, but Hayes continued the business in his own name. He liquidated it and retired about six years ago.

Three sons and three daughters are surviving members of his family.

How He Quit Tobacco

This veteran, R. B. Lamphere, was addicted to the excessive use of tobacco for many years. He wanted to quit, but needed something to help him.

He learned of a free book that tells about tobacco habit, smoking and chewing and how to conquer it quickly, easily and safely. In a recent letter he writes: "I have no desire for tobacco any more. I feel like a new man."

Anyone desiring a copy of this book on tobacco habit, smoking and chewing and how to conquer it quickly, easily and safely, send no money, but write to Edward J. Woods, 2-A-31, Station F, New York City. You will be surprised and pleased. Look for quieter nerves, stronger heart, better digestion, improved strength, increased vigor, longer life and other advantages if you quit smoking and chewing.—ADV.

Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills

At a meeting of the county organization yesterday afternoon in the office of the president, J. H. Kinealy, Mayor of Ferguson, the secretary, C. C. Wolff, City Attorney of Clayton, was instructed to notify Sidney J. Roy of Hannibal, secretary of the New Constitution League, that the League of Municipalities of St. Louis County does not see fit at this time to advance money on the terms suggested by the league.

It developed that an order by the commission for the gas company to reduce its rate of service from $1.40 per 1000 cubic feet to $1.30 did not mean a reduction of 10 cents, as it appeared. It was explained that the company, under the $1.40 rate, had been allowing a discount of 5 per cent, which brought the cost down to $1.33. No discount was allowed for in the Public Service Commission's order for reduction, so that the net rate now is only 3 cents per 1000 feet lower than it was before.

The league members decided to take up the gas situation with the Public Service Commission.

Better fire protection for the municipalities was suggested by Roy M. B. Tidd, Mayor of Webster Groves, who said the Algonquin Golf Club was destroyed by fire yesterday. Tidd said that the Legislature should be petitioned for an enabling act giving the municipalities authority to levy a special tax for the maintenance of efficient fire departments. The question was referred to a committee composed of M. F. O'Brien, City Attorney of Maplewood; Robert C. Powell, City Attorney of Kirkwood, and James H. Amos, City Attorney of University City.

Other matters referred to the same committee include a proposition to demand a 30-day notice from individuals and corporations filling damage suits against municipalities with a population of 30,000 or less.

Merchants' License Tax.

A committee composed of C. C. Wolff, John H. Dowdall, City Attorney of Ferguson, and John A. Noble, City Attorney of Webster Groves, was appointed to study the question of adopting a uniform merchants' license tax, a revision of the method of imposing street and sewer tax so that property owners can pay the cost of such improvements on the installment plan instead of in a lump sum, as they are compelled to do now, and the question of collecting from the State money to pay for the education of orphans.

Mayor Heman pointed out that 150 children from the Mothers' and Babies' Home at 6600 Washington boulevard were attending the public schools of University City, and that the home, as a charitable institution, was exempt from taxation.

COURT WITNESS FEES EXHAUSTED

No Criminal Defense Fund Available Since Last April.

No witness fees have been paid in the Circuit Court for Criminal Causes since the trial of the Lewis brothers last April.

Witnesses who have been complaining have been told by Chief Clerk Henry Clarke that the legislative appropriation for such fees has been exhausted and that he does not expect any money from a new appropriation by the present Legislature until about June 1. When the present term is completed there will be about $8000 due witnesses.

SENATOR'S SUFFRAGE RESOLUTION DENOUNCED

Missouri Women Declare Amendment Proposal Will Only Detract From Measure They Want.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Walter McNabb Miller of Columbia, State chairman of the Missouri Equal Suffrage Association, and other members of the delegation advocating the passage by the Legislature of a bill granting to women the right to vote for presidential electors and municipal officers, yesterday were vigorous in their denunciation of a resolution introduced in the Senate by Senator Frisby H. McCullough of Knox County for the submission of a constitutional amendment granting full suffrage to women.

Mrs. Miller said the women of Missouri, who were sincere advocates of suffrage, were unanimous in their opposition to the submission of a constitutional amendment. "The resolution did not come from a friend of suffrage," said Mrs. Miller, "and we sincerely hope it will be defeated. We are not prepared to enter a campaign for suffrage in Missouri, and this resolution can only serve to detract from the measure we want."

"In bill No. 1 in both the Senate and the House the women of Missouri have stated what they want, and that is limited suffrage, which will permit them to vote in presidential elections and for other officers not specifically mentioned in the Constitution. That is all we want. We have obtained a legal opinion that it will be constitutional."

Senator McCullough said that he was opposed to the bill for limited suffrage and that he did not believe it would be constitutional if enacted into law. He said the Missouri Constitution and the Constitution of Illinois, where a limited suffrage law is in effect, were radically different. "I am for equal suffrage," Senator McCullough said, "and have been for many years, but I am not in favor of passing an unconstitutional measure. I believe the women should have full suffrage and that can only be obtained by a constitutional amendment. With the liquor question out of the way, as it soon will be, there is no reason why a suffrage amendment should not be adopted by a vote of the people, and I think it would be."

The Missouri Constitution fixes the qualifications of voters in the following language:

"Every male citizen of the United States, and every male person of foreign birth who may have declared his intention to become a citizen of the United States according to law, not less than one year nor more than five years before he offers to vote, who is over the age of 21 years, possessing the following qualifications, shall be entitled to vote at all elections by the people:

"1. He shall have resided in the State one year immediately preceding the election at which he offers to vote.

"2. He shall have resided in the county, city or town where he shall offer to vote at least 60 days immediately preceding the election."

"I do not see how the Legislature can change this constitutional provision and permit women to vote for some officers when the Constitution prescribes the qualifications for voters in all elections."

Women Suspect Political Play
The members of the equal suffrage delegation at the capital hold that the introduction of the resolution in opposition to their wishes could be for no other purpose than to give an opportunity for some legislators who, for political reasons, would not vote against suffrage, an opportunity to vote for the resolution and hold that to be a vote for suffrage, and an opportunity to vote against the real suffrage bill the women want. They say they cannot make a campaign of the State, as they would have to do for the adoption of the amendment, and that its submission to the people would be a hindrance and not a help to the suffrage cause. Senator McCullough, in addition to equal suffrage, proposes in his resolution the submission of an amendment which also would take from aliens the right to vote on first papers. His proposed amendment would limit the voting right to full citizens.

It is probable that another resolution submitting this latter question and no other will be offered soon by some other Senator.

ALL-AMERICAN PROGRAM PROVES WORTHY MUSIC

Pageant Chorus Produces Works by Skilton, Paine, Foster and Busch.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.
WHEN an organization devoted to art announces such a motto as "Americanization through music," misgivings inevitably suggest themselves. One suspects an undertaking which seems to place a lighter stress upon merit than upon patriotic propaganda, which, however lofty its motives may be, is no less than an intrusion in esthetics. But most forebodings of the sort were dissipated by the all-American concert with which the Pageant Choral Society opened its fifth season last night at the Odeon. The program proved to be worthy music in the first place, and only incidentally music of American creation. Every number of the evening was composed by an American musician and set to text by an American poet. The selections were: "Hymn of the West," music by the late Prof. John Knowles Paine and words by Edmund Clarence Steadman; "The American Song," music by Fay Foster and poem by Elizabeth A. Wilbur; "The Witch's Daughter," music by Charles Sanford Skilton and words by John Greenleaf Whittier; and "The American Flag," music by Carl Busch and poem by Joseph Rodman Drake. Prof. Skilton is dean of the School of Fine Arts of the University of Kansas, and Busch is conductor of the Kansas City Symphony Orchestra. Thanks to the enterprise of the Pageant Choral Society, it had the distinction of affording "The Witch's Daughter" its first presentation anywhere, and in honor of the occasion Dean Skilton himself was present.

This work easily projected head and shoulders above all the others from the point of view of music, and the fact is amazing when one considers the utterly unpriced version by Whittier with which the composer, stubbornly insisted upon; handicapping his music. It would be almost as inspiring to write music to a mail order catalogue as to melodize stanzas like this:

"The broadest lands in all the town,
The skill to guide, the power to awe
Were Harde's; and his word was law in this town."

Text Only Rhyming Prose.
Could Wagner himself have written impassioned love-music for Tristan and Isolde if their wooing had been couched in such terms as these:

"Oh truest friend of all!" she said,
"God bless you for your kindly thought,
And make the worthy of my lot!"

Actually, the listener is led to watch with a certain awe and admiration the indomitable pertinacity with which the composer bore himself up on unflinching pinions through this veritable rhyming prose. Mercifully even he had been compelled to excise a considerable portion of the poem. But the remnant was lengthy and dreary enough to compel an incessant exercise of Dean Skilton's ingenuity in order to keep the music interesting. His devices were necessarily legion: the music jested and laughed with the merry-makers at Esch Harden's husking bee, it barked with the house dog, it shimmered with the rays of the moon, it shuddered at the nameless terrors of the spectral forest, it even became modal to fit the "quaint old songs their fathers sung." The orchestration was fertile in surprise and deft touches, and the chorus was called upon for dissonances and weird intervals worthy of Debussy. The cantata is throughout a learned, most ingenious tour de force, which would find a high place in its field save for the deadly burden of its text. As it was, Dean Skilton was summoned to the stage and received the most enthusiastic ovation a composer has recently received in this city.

Fay Foster's Fine Song.
Miss Foster had the advantage of choosing an excellent poem, filled with concentrated feeling and therefore thoroughly suitable for musical setting. In the "Hymn of the West," for instance, she told the story of a blind French soldier who hears cheering, who bids his little son run to the window to see what the noise may be, and who, told of brown, strong men swinging along under a banner of stars and stripes, bursts forth in an ecstasy of gratitude.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the musy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft luster and appearance of abundance which is so attractive.—ADV.

ANOTHER ST. LOUIS BRIDE OF JANUARY

Two marriages today are of interest to St. Louisans, one an out-of-town wedding and the other taking place here. At Newport, R. I., the marriage of Miss Barbara Norman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Norman of Brookfarm, Newport, to Daniel W. The marriage of Miss Annie Maude Kennedy to Ernest Eddy was to be very quietly celebrated at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon at the residence of the bride's father, Samuel E. Kennedy of 4947 Maryland place. Owing to recent mourning in the bride's family only the relatives were to be present, and all the arrangements were very simply carried out. Miss Margaret Kennedy was to be her sister's maid of honor and only attendant, and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, William Bedford Turner, served as best man, with the Rev. Ivan Lee Holt, of St. John's M. E. Church, officiating. The bride is a graduate of Mary Institute and is related to a number of well-known families here, her mother having been Miss Mary R. Kennard before her marriage. Mr. Eddy is the son of Mrs. Arthur Eddy of 5155 Washington boulevard, and is a graduate of Yale. After a honeymoon trip the couple will be at home after March 1 at 4947 Maryland place.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, streaked and faded hair is grand-mother's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the musy mixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Health and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing "hollow" and angular figures with curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is, however, and is sold by Judge & Dehn Drug Stores, under the name of Bitro-Phosphate. It is in St. Louis and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body with the necessary phosphoric food element, bitro-phosphate produces a welcome transformation in the weight frequently being astonishing.

With it a general improvement in the lack of energy, which is always a consequence of thinness, and a disappearance of all nervousness, soon follows. Thin people become bright and cheerful, and glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: Although bitro-phosphate is unadulterated and contains no narcotics, it should not be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—ADV.

Five Days in Jail for 22 Women.
By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Twenty-two members of the National Woman's party, arrested in connection with a demonstration in front of the White House, at which they burned copies of President Wilson's speeches, were sentenced yesterday to five days in jail. The women announced they would conduct a hunger strike.

"Best Health in Years"—From Internal Baths
Miss Frances Harrod, care Plunkett-Jarrell Grocery Co., Little Rock, Ark., writes: "I am very glad to tell you that I am more than pleased with the results obtained from the use of the J. B. L. Canada, and am in better health than I have been in years."
This is but one of thousands of the same kind of letters received by Dr. Chas. A. Taylor of New York, the inventor of the "J. B. L. Canada." By a purely natural process of properly using warm water, the "J. B. L. Canada" removes all the poisonous waste from the lower intestine, which physicians agree is the cause of 80% of all human ailments.
Judge & Dolph Drug Co., St. Louis, Mo., have filled an enormous demand for "J. B. L. Canada" in the past few years, and will show and explain it to you on request. An interesting booklet on internal bathing—Why Man of To-day is Sick—can be obtained at any drug store free of any cost—ADV.

Miss Lolo Converse Tells How Cuticura Healed Her Eczema
"Eczema broke out all over my body, especially my face, in red, inflamed blisters. It itched so that I could hardly stand it, and I could not wear any colored clothes next to me. I scratched night and day, and I could not work much. I could not rest.
"I had this trouble ten or eleven years. Then I used Cuticura, and I used eight cakes of Soap with five boxes of Ointment and I was healed." (Signed) Miss Lolo Converse, 120 N. Mission St., Mt. Pleasant, Mich.
Having obtained a clear healthy skin by the use of Cuticura, keep it clear by using the Soap for all toilet purposes, assisted by touches of Ointment as needed. Cuticura Soap is ideal for the complexion, it is so delicate and creamy.
Do not fail to include the exquisitely scented Cuticura Talcum in your toilet preparations. 25c. everywhere.

TO RELIEVE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND HEAD NOISES
If you have Catarrhal Deafness or are hard of hearing or have head noises, so to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Perminol (double strength) and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.
This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.—ADV.

The gypsy had gained admission to the home by offering to tell Mrs. Ecardt's fortune. After reciting the usual visions of prosperity the gypsy had begged Mrs. Ecardt to play "just one" selection on the piano for her. Meantime, Mrs. Ecardt said, the gypsy had gathered up three baby dresses and a woman's silk dress and was helping herself to the contents of a dresser drawer. Mrs. Ecardt seized a revolver and forced the gypsy to leave the house.

Y. M. C. A. MEN CHARGED WITH DEFALCATIONS
Three Workers Are Held in Paris; $38,940 Said to Have Been Misappropriated.
By The Associated Press.
PARIS, Jan. 15.—It became known today that three Young Men's Christian Association workers are under arrest in Paris charged with defalcation of the funds of the association. The men are George Schoeffel, former secretary of the Chamber of Commerce of Rochester, N. Y.; the Rev. R. Atkins of Eagle Pass, Tex., and Mansfield, said to have been a former secretary of the Sailors' Union of New York City.
The total amount alleged to have been misappropriated approximates $38,940, most of which has been recovered. In connection with the alleged defalcation E. C. Carter, secretary of the American Expeditionary Forces of the Y. M. C. A. made the following statement:
"During the six months ending Oct. 1, the Y. M. C. A. center business approximated $16,000,000. The American Expeditionary Force remittance business aggregated $11,900,000 for the year 1918. The American Y. M. C. A. in France has found in the course of its investigations up to the present misappropriations to the amount of $38,940.
"Along with the excellent record of 75 workers cited by the United States and French military authorities, 30 workers have been killed or died in the service. Out of a total staff of more than 6000 workers, three have been charged with defalcations up to this time.
"Reported irregularities at Toul led the legal department of the Y. M. C. A. to make an investigation with the result that when one man was arrested he is said to have admitted having in his possession Y. M. C. A. money, a part of which was in a trunk he had stored in Paris.
"Some of this money had been invested in French bonds and some had been secreted personally.
"Another worker at Brest confessed taking small sums regularly. The third and most flagrant case was that of a worker accused of appropriating $7,000 francs, which, it is charged, he secreted and placed in various packages which are deposited with the American Express Co.
"Fortunately the greater part of all the money stolen has been recovered. The Y. M. C. A. has asked the army to prosecute these cases to the limit and to impose the full penalty on any workers proving recreant to the trust of the American people."
The military court martial will begin during the present week.

SOLDIERS URGED TO HURRY HOME
By The Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—So that soldiers discharged from the army may be induced to immediately secure railroad transportation to their homes, the War Department has instructed officers in charge of demobilization to provide ticket offices near the point at which the soldiers receive their final pay and fare allowances.
"It is further suggested," said the order, "that through co-operation of personnel, morale and other officers, emphasis be laid on the importance of immediately purchasing railroad transportation before there is any and becoming a burden on the near-chance of the men using the money by community."

PUT STOMACH IN PARKER HEADS FINE CONDITION NEW MISSISSIPPI VALLEY BODY

Days Indigestion Results From An Excess of Hydrochloric Acid.

Indigestion is a common ailment, and one that is often overlooked. It is caused by an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which prevents complete digestion and starts food fermentation. Thus everything eaten causes in the stomach much like garbage in a can, forming acid and gas which inflates the stomach like a toy balloon. Then we feel a heavy, lumpy mass in the chest, we belch up gas, we eructate sour food or have heartburn, flatulence, water-brash or nausea.

He tells us to lay aside all digestive aids and instead, get from any pharmacy four ounces of Jad Salts and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and at bedtime. It is effective and further, more, to continue this for a week. While relief follows the first dose, it is important to neutralize the acidity, remove the gas-making mass, start the liver, stimulate the kidneys and thus promote a free flow of pure digestive juices.

EASY TO MAKE THIS PINE COUGH REMEDY

Thousands of families swear by its prompt results. Inexpensive, and saves about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and sugar. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and very pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

DO AWAY WITH INDIGESTION

How to Purify a Sour, Distressed Stomach in a Few Minutes.

Let us talk plain English: let us call a spade a spade.

Let us tell the truth and say that if you are constantly distressed after meals, if you belch gas and sour food comes up in the mouth, then your stomach is in a rapid condition and should be purified and put in good shape at once.

Your food ferments and your stomach isn't strong enough to digest the food you put into it, so the food sours and forms poisonous gases, and when it does leave your stomach it has not furnished proper nourishment to the blood, and has left the stomach in a filthy condition.

Take Mi-na stomach tablets if you want to change your filthy stomach to a healthy, clean, purified one.

So strong is our faith in the value of Mi-na, we authorize our druggists to cheerfully refund your money if Mi-na fails to relieve your distress, rid you of distaste, biliousness and sick headache.

If you want to make your stomach so strong that it will digest a hearty meal without distress, and you want to be without that distressing, tired out feeling, take Mi-na stomach tablets. No matter how miserable your stomach feels, Mi-na should give you prompt relief. For sale by Wolf-Wilson Drug Co. and all leading druggists.—ADV.

SIMPLE WAY TO END DANDRUFF

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.—ADV.

FOREIGN TRADE MEETING ADJOURNS

Delegates at New Orleans Plan $100,000 Fund to Fight Rail Opposition to River Navigation.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 15.—John M. Parker of New Orleans, candidate for Vice President on the Progressive ticket in 1912, was elected president of the Mississippi Valley Association formed yesterday, prior to adjournment of the foreign trade meeting here.

The stated purpose of the association, which includes 20 states in the valley, is to promote all the valley's interests, but particularly to divert traffic to north and south lines, applying to foreign trade. This means the association will endeavor to export and import through the Gulf ports, using both rail and water.

Strong representation will be made to the Shipping Board to have ships of the merchant marine assigned to these ports, particularly New Orleans, on regular sailing schedules.

The directors announced a decision to place representatives of the organization in every principal foreign port, to act as Mississippi Valley trade consultants. Market needs, credits and other information will be forwarded to valley interests from the foreign ports and their offices will be used as clearing houses for valley trading interests.

Missouri obtained a singularly strong representation in the new organization. The 20 states are divided into eight zones. Each state has a director and each zone a vice president. As the result of a tight made in caucus by Charles Sutter of St. Louis, director for Missouri, St. Louis was made the capital of one zone and Kansas City of another, giving Missouri two vice presidents, the only state that has two.

Former Gov. Glasscock and other prominent West Virginia residents have filed in the House of Delegates an impeachment petition containing 11 counts against Judge G. C. Sturges of Monongalia County, demanding legislative investigation. The accused is 80 years old, a Republican, has served two terms in Congress and was once a candidate for Governor.

Among the charges is one that while Judge he accepted employment from the Morgantown & Wheeling Railroad Co. for which he was paid $5000 a year. Item No. 8 recites that while holding office he caused an unnamed married woman to be incarcerated in the jail without any charges being preferred against her.

The Mississippi River Navigation Co., a new organization capitalized at $1,150,000, has announced that it has contracted for the transportation of 65,000 tons of coal from St. Louis during the coming season and as soon as navigation opened it will have towboats plying the river. The company has contracted for 40 steel barges of from 600 to 700 tons capacity.

More than 20 Twin Cities manufacturers and jobbers have contracted with an export company for branches in South America and the West Indies and are calculating to use the river for transportation.

The city of St. Paul has appropriated $18,000 for an extension to its municipal docks and the Mississippi River Navigation Co. is proposing to expend $250,000 on private docks.

Come Ride in the Essex

Its First Showing—A Light Weight Quality Car

We Want Your Opinion of It

All motordom has waited a year for the Essex. Dealers have ventured all sorts of descriptions for it. But today it is having its premier showing in hundreds of cities and towns throughout America.

For months the trade papers have given first prominence to whatever news they could get of its details.

Their interest was awakened because it combines the advantages of the light low priced car, and its economy, with the performance, sturdiness and beauty of the large and costly car. One leading writer proclaimed the Essex a new development in motor car transportation.

Don't you want to be among the first in this locality to see the car that has awakened this interest? We wish you would come and ride in it for

You Are To Do Its Advertising

We have long wanted to reveal the details of the Essex. But the manufacturers said they wanted the car to speak for itself. They said no description that could be applied to it would create as favorable an impression as would result from a ride in the car.

Even now we hesitate to praise the Essex since we can say nothing that has not already been claimed in praise for some other car.

So the endorsement it is to receive is such as you and other thousands of motorists volunteer to give. All we ask is that you come and ride in it.

We Were Surprised—Let Us Surprise You

When we went to the factory to see the Essex we wanted to know in advance something of its detail. But we were told that was for us to discover as we inspected and rode in the car.

Perhaps we would have been skeptical and have concluded there was nothing unusual about the Essex if we had not known the men who are building it. But knowing them as we do and knowing the quality of cars they build, our faith and curiosity were aroused.

What a Ride Proved to Us

Our first experience was a ride over a road so rough that you would willingly go miles out of the way to avoid if you were in the average light car.

We took it at high speed, but the effect in both the front and rear seats was more in keeping with what you might expect in riding over a smooth pavement.

Then we drove into soft sand where the wheels sunk in below the felloes, going through as though it were thin mud.

Every test that reveals performance was shown us. There were no squeaks. The motor did not labor. The car had been in similar service for months and still retained its appearance of newness. These are things we want to show you. A demonstration like that which surprised us is ready for you if you will come to our store.

The Essex is Built To Endure

Every part that wears is adjustable. Hard service can not loosen the body nor twist the radiator. It is so sturdily built that the frame remains solid and rigid over the roughest roads and through the hardest service. The motor is practically free from vibration. If you were blindfolded and placed in the Essex without having seen it and then were given such a ride as we want you to take with us, you would likely say you were in a large and costly car.

After you have ridden in the Essex we will tell you all about it.

Then, we think you will be so enthusiastic you will tell everyone you know that you have ridden in the most surprising car you have ever seen.

Rheumatism
Because we eat less fruit, drink less water and take less exercise in winter than in summer, rheumatism is apt to be much more common and aggravated. This is because constipation is then much more common, for it is generally conceded that constipation is the cause of rheumatism.
Constipation causes food-waste to lie in the bowels and ferment, creating poisons which are absorbed into the blood. If the kidneys, lungs and skin pores are overworked and cannot throw the poisons out of the system, they are deposited and rheumatism is the result.
Your druggist has an ideal preparation called SALINOS, which will entirely empty the bowels, including the lower bowel where most poisons are formed. SALINOS is decidedly pleasant, both in taste and action, is fully effective if taken in cold water,
and it never gripes.
Get a bottle of SALINOS for a quarter (larger sizes for 50c and a dollar). Be safe. Get it. Use SAL-INOS tomorrow morning.—ADV.

MOVE TO NAME CENTRAL SCHOOL, "ROOSEVELT"
Resolution Before Board of Education as a Lasting Tribute to Former President.
The Board of Education will take action probably Feb. 11 on the proposal, introduced at last night's meeting to change the name of Central High School to Theodore Roosevelt High School.
A resolution providing for this change in name was introduced by Stephen M. Wagner, and seconded by Richard Murphy. Under the rules it must go over until next month's meeting for final action. The resolution stated that the board desired to pay a lasting tribute to the memory of a great American citizen, whose private character and public deeds were held before the young as examples worthy of emulation. It also provided that an engrossed copy of the resolution, with an etching of the high school building, be sent to Mrs. Roosevelt.
The present Central High School building at Grand avenue and Windsor place, is 30 years old, and took the place of the old high-school building at Fifteenth and Olive streets, which was first used in 1855.
It has retained the name indicating its location, while the later high-schools have been named after public men. Two of them bear the names of Presidents, William Mc-Kinley and Grover Cleveland. Another is named after James E. Yas-man, philanthropist of Civil War days, the fourth after F. Louis Sol-dan, who was for years Superintendent of Schools, and who died in the service; and the latest addition,
the Junior High School, after Ben Blewett, who was Supt. Solidan's successor, and who also died in the service. The high school for negroes bears the name of Charles Sumner,
Civil War Senator from Massachusetts and champion of the negro.
$400,000,000 MINIMUM NEEDED
TO FEED LIBERATED COUNTRIES
Council of Supply and Relief, After Considering Situation, Gives
Its Estimate.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Jan. 15.—The Supreme Council of Supply and Relief, which has been engaged for the last three days in considering the situation of the liberated countries stretching from Belgium to Poland and Armenia, has concluded that the minimum sum necessary to feed these peoples until next summer is $400,000,000.
The council has asked the Treasury Departments of the Associated Governments to determine how the money can be provided. The allied Governments in Europe, it is said, have agreed to undertake their full responsibilities in the matter.
The bulk of the foodstuffs must come from the United States and while the allied Governments can pay for transportation and can furnish clothing and other services, the payments made in the United States will greatly exceed the $100,000,000 which President Wilson has asked Congress to appropriate. Herbert C.
Hoover, Director-General of International Relief, has proposed that a commission representing each of the four great Powers be established in each of the countries to be relieved under the general term of "relief to liberated countries."

DENIED THAT PUEBLO CHIEFTAIN MADE DEAL WITH BERNSTORFF
Staff Member Says It Never Received
Dollar From Any Source to Govern Its Policy.
By the Associated Press.
DENVER, Colo., Jan. 15.—Alva
A. Swain, Denver representative of the Pueblo Chieftain, whose name was mentioned in the testimony of A.
J. Smith yesterday before the Senate Committee investigating German propaganda, in a statement denies the charges made by Smith that an agreement was made with Count von Bernstorff to control the policy of the Chieftain.
"At no time," says Swain, "did the Chieftain or its proprietors or its editors or myself ever confer with any German representative or over-receive a dollar from any source in connection with any policy of the paper."
Swain says the charges were investigated by representatives of the state and Federal Governments, including Rowland K. Goddard, chief of the Denver division of the United States secret service, and in each instance the investigation was dropped. Goddard confirmed Swain's statement re-gating the investigation conducted by him.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 15.—I. N.
Stevens last night characterized as "absolutely and unqualifiedly false" the statement by Alfred J. Smith before the Senate Committee investigating German propaganda that Stevens had given him instructions to start a campaign to obtain subscriptions from German-Americans. Stevens said he had had no connection whatever since 1911 either with the business or editorial policy of the Pueblo Chieftain.

PRESIDENT POSSIBLY WILL COME HOME BY WAY OF ENGLAND
Wants to Visit Base of American
Fleet and Receive Oxford
Degree.
By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Jan. 15.—President Wilson may visit England on his way back to the United States next month, but it will not be to confer with statesmen there. He has hoped to be able to sail for America from a British port, probably Queenstown, and have an opportunity to inspect the base of the American fla-tilla which did such remarkable work in the anti-submarine warfare.
Mr. Wilson, it is said, might decide if he visits England to stop for a few hours at Oxford to receive an honorary degree which the university wishes to confer on him. He would not necessarily visit London on his journey. If, when the President starts homeward, he should feel it necessary for him to return later to Europe, he might postpone his visit to Oxford, but if he feels there is any doubt about his coming back to the peace congress he might go to Oxford to receive his degree.

Sleep is the Body's Building-up Time
are the most fundamental inventions of modern bed manufacturing—exclusive with Simmons, not to be duplicated or imitated.
And these patented corner locks have made possible the Three-piece Bed—the new Simmons idea—the spring forming a single unit with the side rails.
If you want the most relaxing and constructive sleep anyone can get, you'll find it in a Simmons Twin Bed.
Everywhere people of refinement are learning that there's nothing like a separate bed for promoting perfect rest and good health.
This advanced thought about sleep has long been a Simmons specialty. They are pioneer makers of Twin Beds. There is nowhere a showing of Twin Beds equal to those produced by Simmons Company.
THE Slumber King Spring really does what you have always wanted a spring to do. It is a new and advanced idea. It is a system of elastic steel strips with spirals of high-test spring wire—so combined that the spring action is equal in all directions.
The Slumber King Spring yields to the weight of the body, but supports it. It fits square on the bed. It does not sag, hump —or lose its resiliency. It is always a firm, elastic foundation for the mattress. It invites sound, health-giving sleep.
The Slumber King Spring is finished in oxidized silver. It is rustproof. It has no loose ends or rough corners—cannot wear or tear the ticking.
NO doubt you're tired of trying to get the right kind of sleep in a bed made merely for looks.
You'd be glad to get a good metal bed.
The Simmons Bed comes in brass, and in enamel with or without brass trimmings.
Also beautiful natural wood effects.
Not all furniture dealers carry Simmons Beds. But leading merchants everywhere have a complete stock of Simmons Beds and Simmons Slumber King Springs.
If you do not know the Simmons mer-

JAPAN'S NEEDS OF MISSISSIPPI VALLEY PRODUCTS EXPLAINED

Some of the things which Japan requires which might be supplied by the Mississippi Valley were enumerated yesterday by Dr. Frank R. Rutter, commercial attaché of the American embassy at Tokio. He remarked that the valley has a direct trade route to Japan via the Mississippi to New Orleans and thence by way of the Japanese steamship line, which recently established regular sailings via the Panama Canal.

Dr. Rutter is in St. Louis today.

An Appeal For Your Children

Look back at your childhood days. Remember the physic that mother insisted on—castor oil, salts or cathartics. How you hated them. How you fought them. How you dreaded their after-effects. That was all wrong, but then nobody knew better.

With our children it's different. The day of harsh physics is over. We don't force the bowels now; we coax them. We have no dreaded after-effects. And the dose is a candy tablet.

Mothers who cling to the old form of physic simply don't know what they do.

Their tender bowels are harmed by them. The modern way is to give a gentle laxative more frequently. To keep the bowels always active. The best method is Cascarets.

Cascarets are candy tablets. Children love their pleasant taste. They cost only 10 cents a box, with full directions for children's dosage at all ages. Babies too! Give Cascarets, then don't worry—they never disappoint.

PACKERS' ACTIVITIES
RELATED BY HENEY

He Testifies They Control Stock
in Big New Hotels and Own Public Utilities.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Information as to the character of letters filed in the Chicago office vaults of Henry Veeder, counsel for Swift & Co., was given by Francis J. Heney of San Francisco, in resuming his testimony today before the Senate Agricultural Committee on regulation of the meat industry.

Letters written by Veeder to Swift, he said, told of sending gaudy checks and a horse to Representative Mann of Illinois, Republican leader of the House.

"Congressmen told me," he said, "that Representatives Mann and Carlin hugged each other before the Speaker's seat when it was announced that the Borland resolution (for a congressional investigation of the packers) had been defeated."

Questioned by Senator Norris relative to the packers' expenditures for advertising purposes, Heney said from the beginning of the Federal Trade Commission's investigation Swift & Co. spent a million a month for that purpose.

Letters in the packers' files showed, the witness continued, that their purpose in carrying on their advertising campaign was to influence newspapers not to publish certain things, such as the Federal Trade Commission report, and to influence editorialists.

In Chicago, he said, the packers "come pretty close to dominating the financial situation." In order to control the purchase of supplies, he added, the packers own stock in practically every big new hotel built in the country.

Government ownership of refrigerating cars, stockyards, terminal railways, branch houses and cold storage plants, and Government supervision of the packing houses themselves by means of a licensing plan would give adequate relief, Heney said.

Asked by Senator Kenyon of Iowa as to whether the packers' control did not also extend to public utilities, Heney replied that in Sioux City, Ia., they not only controlled the stockyards but the street railway and other public utilities, while in Kansas City the Armour company controlled the street car system. The practice of extending their control to these interests, he said, was principally practiced by the Armour, Swift and Morris companies.

"How can they acquire those things on the small profits we read about them making?" asked Senator Kenyon. "They do that on their personal fortunes," replied Heney.

BUT 14 EAGLE BOATS OF
60 PROMISED COMPLETED

Rear Admiral Taylor Says None of Naval Shipbuilders Met Building
Speed Estimate.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Despite the best efforts of shipbuilders holding navy contracts, none was able to meet building speed estimates during the last year, Rear Admiral Taylor, chief of the Bureau of Construction, told the Senate Naval Committee today at its investigation of contracts for Eagle submarine chasers.

The Eagle boats, he said, were not built as fast as promised, but he added that delay by builders was general. While 43 were to be delivered before the closing of navigation on the Great Lakes, the navy received only seven and "had luck" with three of them, he said.

The Admiral explained that of 60 boats to be built, 14 had been completed, and 21 were on the ways.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, who proposed the investigation, suggested that contracts for the remaining 46 be canceled.

Admiral Taylor presented official reports to the Navy published statements that the first Eagle boats launched looked badly and had to be laid up for repairs.

PAPER DEALT WITH BERNSTORFF

Thomas Says That Charges Made by Austin J. Smith Collapsed in 1916.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Senator Thomas of Colorado, appearing today before the Senate Judiciary Committee investigating German propaganda, declared that the testimony given yesterday by Austin J. Smith that an arrangement was made with Count von Bernstorff to pay for the support of the Pueblo (Colo.) Chieftain, and that while there a telegram was received from Count Bernstorff.

Senator Thomas said Smith in 1916 told him he had been connected with the editorial department of the Pueblo Chieftain, and that while there a telegram was received from Count Bernstorff.

Smith said he would be willing to get possession of it if it would be of use to the Government. Senator Thomas said he agreed to pay Smith's expenses to Washington, but heard nothing from him for some time, and when Smith came in March, 1917, he said he could not get the State Department to act on the alleged information he had.

"Smith said he ought to be compensated and I told him I wouldn't pay him anything, and I wouldn't recommend that anyone else pay him anything," the Senator said.

FOR COLDS AND GRIPPE
DOCTORS FIND REMEDY

Physicians and druggists are clating over the fact that they have at last found a genuine and dependable remedy for colds, sore throat and influenza. For years they have depended chiefly upon the use of stimulants, which is certainly fine, but unfortunately many people would not take it because of its nauseating and dangerous qualities.

Now that the pharmaceutical chemists have perfected a nauseous emulsion, called "Calotabs" whose medicinal virtues are vastly improved, the doctors and druggists are claiming that Calotabs are the ideal remedy to abort a cold overnight and cut short an attack of sore throat or grippe. They are also finding it most effective as the first step in the treatment of pneumonia.

One Calotab on the tongue at bedtime with a swallow of water—that's all. No salts, no nausea nor the slightest interference with your eating or your work and pleasure. The next morning your cold has vanished and your whole system is purified and refreshed. Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages; price, 35c. Your druggist recommends and guarantees them by refunding the money if you are not delighted—ADV.

VERTISEMENT

Half of French Army Lost
1,500,000 killed in battle and an equal number seriously wounded in the enormous sacrifice of France against the world war. This constituted about half of the men aged 15 to 45 years, a larger ratio of the 30,000,000 population than any other nation save France. France a large debt of gratitude for this heroic outpouring of her blood and life. The nation owes a debt to the peasants of France who during the war, in the midst of the most terrible and intestinal ailments which is reported in the history of the world, have saved thousands of lives. One of the most important and successful operations in the history of the world, the French people have performed under the name of the "Calotabs" a heroic preparation that removes the harmful mucus from the stomach and allows the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will continue to be effective. Wolff-Wilson Drug Co., 100 N. 2nd St., St. Louis, Mo. Sole agents for the St. Louis district. ## Sandman Story for Tonight.

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Cherry Robynyoung.

It was nice and warm and sunny in the Southland, so, of course, Mr. Robynyoung was not at all to blame for thinking it was time to start North. He was told by the older boys that he better wait a while, as he might find it cold and rainy in the Northland.

But Mr. Robynyoung had a plan in his mind. He wished to have a home for Miss Robynyoung when she arrived with her mother in the Northland.

"I will go ahead and get our home ready," he told her. "You shall find it warm, cozy and in a high leaty tree."

Miss Robynyoung looked into his eyes and peeped a sweet note which told him she was sure he was the very best Robin in the world, and away flew Robynyoung, his heart as light as his wings.

All went well and he reached the Northland one bright sunny morning without having any rain or cold on the way.

All day he looked about, and, while there were no leaves yet on the trees, Mr. Robynyoung had good judgment about such things, and at last in a big apple tree in an orchard he decided to build a home for himself and his bride.

But, oh, the next morning what a difference when Robynyoung awoke! The sun was not shining, and it was wet, the rain coming down all over poor Robynyoung.

But he would not be discouraged. "What is the difference?" he asked himself. "It will have to stop some time. I know the sun is up there behind the clouds; I'll just wait."

He found a place where the rain did not fall on him, and there he sat and sang a little song about the sunshine and the warm, sunny days to come, and before long he caught the old sunman's smiling face from behind the clouds and smiled at Robynyoung.

"Oh, I knew the sun was there!" laughed Robynyoung as he went to work on his new home.

The next day the sun shone, but by night it was cold and the wind ruffled Robynyoung's feathers in a very unpleasant manner.

But Robynyoung was about on a limb and chirped and twittered to keep himself warm, always saying to himself, "It will be warm some time; I know that summer is on the way."

In the morning it was cold, but the sun was shining, and Robynyoung sang as he worked about the beautiful summer and the flowers and the sun.

"What in the world are you so happy about?" asked a snippy blackbird, shivering on a limb nearby. "It is cold and looks like snow; wouldn't wonder if it did snow by morning. I don't guess you would sing a different tune now?"

"Oh, no; I wouldn't," replied Robynyoung. "I would sing louder about the summer and the warm days to come. What is the difference if it is cold and wet? I am here safe and sound, and I know the summer is coming and the sun is behind the clouds if it rains and the birds are under the ground and the birds are on their way to Northland and—"

But Blackbird had gone.

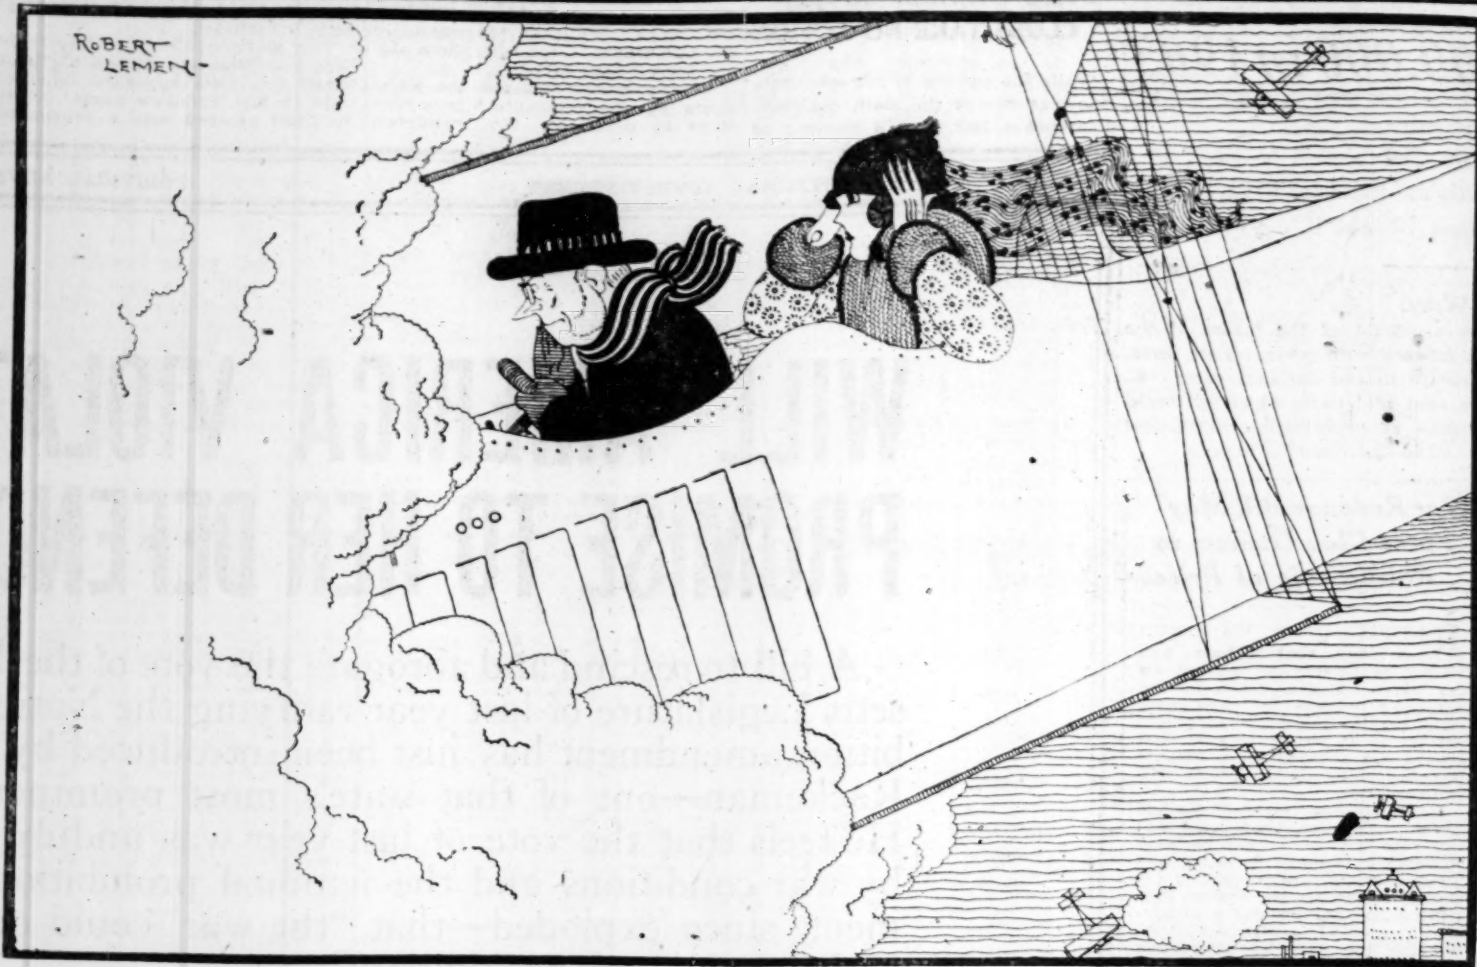

"I never met a fellow who knew so much about the world before," he told his wife. "He didn't see a thing that was wrong, he was so busy talking about the good he knew."

And that was the way Robynyoung worked until he had his home ready and waiting for Miss Robynyoung a day before she arrived; and all summer he knew there were plenty of worms and things for them to eat, even when there were none to be seen.

But he found them always, and Mrs. Robynyoung grew to think her husband could drive away the rain by talking about the sun he knew was behind the clouds; for it was sure to peep out warmer and brighter than ever after Robynyoung had talked about it awhile.

Paris and London Are Neighbors by Plane

THANKS to aviation the world grows smaller every day.

Time was when Londoners regarded Paris as a town a long way off, and those who went there considered themselves well-traveled. Those were the days when "straight as the crow flies" was a mere figure of speech; but now the journey to Paris is being made that way every day. Parisians are becoming to Londoners just next-door neighbors, and Mr. Smith of 1919 will say to himself, "I think I'll just drop in on Alphonse in Paris for lunch." It won't take him any longer to see Alphonse than it would to drop in and see his wife in their little suburban home.

A similar idea occurred to Fred H. Lawton of the American Y. M. C. A. While London was rejoicing over the signing of the armistice the American conceived the idea of showing the Yanks and compatriots in Paris just what form these rejoicings took. So a movie of the London crowds was taken. With this Lawton left England at 12:30 p. m. and arrived in Paris in time for luncheon. The flight was made in a big Handley-Page airplane, and from start to finish took only 35 minutes.

TOO MANY CROOKS A Story of Laughs and Thrills

CHAPTER XIX.

"UNEASY LIES THE HEAD—"

CHARLOTTE walked slowly downstairs, conscious of the thrill of having come upon a mystery. Bidwell Wright had flown—by way of the window. But why?

The thing was beyond her understanding. Of all her guests, Wright was the very last she would have expected to avoid a meeting with the law's minions. He had never been arrested; he himself had told her that the "soiled hands" of society's guardians had never been laid upon him. A super-crook he had declared himself unknown to the law. No bureau of identification had the finger-prints of Bidwell Wright, no gallery had his photograph. Why should he fly?

"Perhaps he lied," a small voice told Charlotte.

Al—perhaps. There was no other way to explain it; at least, none that occurred to Charlotte. Perhaps, after all, his was a family affair. He must have believed they had come for him. And yet—how disgusting to think of Bidwell Wright in a panic. It's almost incredible. And I did not believe he was a coward."

It was the last reflection that disturbed Charlotte most of all. Not that she cared, she told herself. Whether he was a coward or not; it was the upsetting of her judgment that hurt her. She had always taken pride in her ability to estimate character; to have failed in the case of Bidwell Wright was humiliating.

Her reverie was interrupted by the whir of a motor outside and cautious footsteps on the porch. Somebody inserted a key in the front door. Charlotte stepped quickly into the hall, just in time to confront Boston Fanny and Erastus P. Brown.

"Hello, old dear; you're up late," said Fanny with a rare smile. "Well, me for my beauty sleep. Night-night, folks."

As she ran off upstairs a tiny tinkle of laughter floated back.

Mr. Brownning entered his daughter with unmistakable embarrassment.

He coughed and made an extended ceremony of removing his light overcoat. Charlotte stood and watched her father wickerily. "Yes, come in here."

"H-m. Still working?" remarked Mr. Brownning. "Shouldn't try your eyes too much, my dear."

"I want to talk to you," said Charlotte coldly, gesturing toward the library. "Come in here."

"Pretty late, pretty late," he said nervously. "How about the morning, Charlotte?"

"No. Right now."

He sighed and walked reluctantly into the library.

"Dad, what does this mean?" demanded his daughter, as she faced him.

"Mean? Mean? Why—er—nothing. Nothing at all, my dear. We have went for a little drive this afternoon. Had a bite to eat. Drove to town and saw a show; drove back again."

Erastus P. Brownning was doing his best to assume a casual tone.

"And with that woman?" said Charlotte in an awful voice.

"She's very entertaining, very bright, my dear. Makes a good appearance. Perfect little lady."

"Dad."

"But it's quite true, my dear. Oh, absolutely. Behavior is simply wonderful when she is in company."

Charlotte was glaring at her parent.

"This stops right here!" she said slowly. "Do you hear me? No more of it. Are you deliberately trying to disgrace the family? I will not have you associating with such a person!"

Mr. Brownning blinked in perplexity and scratched his ear.

"But, Charlotte—"

"I wish no explanations."

"But I don't quite see the point," he persisted. "She's a guest here, and she's a lovely girl. We have them living here with us; you brought them yourself. And as for—er—Miss Hathaway, certainly you'd sooner have me take her for a drive than Frisco Jimmy."

"The point is that I will not have you take any of them for a drive—or anything else."

"But what's the difference? If we entertain them at home—"

"A great difference," interrupted Charlotte sternly. "Those people are here for a definite purpose. They are not ordinary guests; in a sense they are employees. They are here solely in connection with my professional work. It's not the habit of thinking in the house on terms of intimacy; that is necessary, because I am compelled to study them. They are not here to be paraded in public or among our friends. You have no right or justification to 'disgrace' yourself in such a manner. I don't."

The ethics of the matter were still cloudy in the mind of Mr. Brownning.

"I'm quite sure I didn't disgrace myself," he said mildly. "I behaved perfectly. And so did Fan—Miss Hathaway."

"But you were seen with her—in public! That's the point. Heavens, dad, can't you understand?"

Charlotte sternly. "Those people are here for a definite purpose. They are not ordinary guests; in a sense they are employees. They are here solely in connection with my professional work. It's not the habit of thinking in the house on terms of intimacy; that is necessary, because I am compelled to study them. They are not here to be paraded in public or among our friends. You have no right or justification to 'disgrace' yourself in such a manner. I don't."

Suddenly he looked up jauntily.

"Yes, I was seen with her," he admitted. "The Browns were at the theater; so were the Fredinghysens. But, Charlotte, my dear, weren't you seen with Mr. Wright at the Smyth-garden party?"

Charlotte faltered for an instant.

"And that was out in company," pursued her father wickedly. "Yes, indeed; there must have been a great many of your friends there. Now, if you can take one—ah—crook to a garden party, why can't I take another to a show?"

He looked at her triumphantly.

"The cases are entirely different," declared Charlotte. "Very different,

Reflections of a Bachelor Girl.

A Toast.

HERE'S to the greatest age of all time, the Golden Age of the world, the most potent moment in history, the renaissance of art, love, marriage, religion and literature, and the birth of brotherhood and universal prosperity. Here's to the year 1919!

The prayer of a woman's life is that she may find a man who won't deceive her—the prayer of a man's, that he may find a wife who won't UN-receive him.

A man never thinks he has tasted the cup of joy until he has splashed it all over himself, as he does his morning bath.

If you want to know what a girl really means, watch the corners of her eyes; if you want to know what a girl means, watch the corners of her mouth—but, dear me! who wants to know what they really mean, when they are saying something so much pleasanter?

It requires an unhappy love affair or two to take the kinks out of a man, rub the raw edges off his egotism and polish him up for social usage.

Now that the women have learned to run street cars, and the men have learned how to peel potatoes and make beds, you may notice that it's the girls, not the boys, who are anxious to hold onto their new jobs. The once "tired business man" is perfectly willing to slip right back into the old harness and go on being "tired" in the same old pleasant way.

When a man really cares to kiss a girl, somehow he doesn't dare—and when he really dares, somehow he doesn't care.

Not much use to pay out your dollars to have the lines massaged out of your face if you are going to let your heart get old and gray and wrinkled for want of exercise. It's bound to show through!

Jealousy never files out of the window until indifference stalks in at the door.

Keep a clothes pin in a handy place near the sink. It is much better for scraping aluminum wear than a knife. It will speedily remove the sticking substances and will not scratch the cooking utensil.

Use a spoon to mix batters and always use a knife to mix dough.

Care Keeps the Germs Away

By SOPHIE IRENE LOEB.

FOR the last two weeks I have had occasion for considerable reflection—on the subject of health.

You go along for weeks and months and even years. You meet this difficulty and that. You fight your way through problems and pleasures.

You meet what seem to be great obstacles—trials that look insurmountable. You get through them. You think you have met almost any issue—you feel fit for the fray—when lo! all of a sudden, beginning with an innocent little cough or tickling sensation in your throat, and down you come, to fight what? A few fuzzy little germs.

And you just wait. Only last week you were up and doing, wading your way through the universe. A few short hours have intervened and you feel "as weak as a cat," and wonder if you will ever be able to take up the thread of things again.

You realize your helplessness when you've got to be fed with a spoon, for days it is an effort to take liquid foods.

Then gradually the little germs are conquered if you are very careful, and you begin to understand when you go to do the least thing that requires energy what you've been through.

In a word, in such a short time you marvel how you can be laid so low. Therefore, the reason for this writing is for creating an appreciation of health. There are but few who do appreciate it.

Never before have I realized what abuse we give to ourselves every day and "get away with it." How we mix our foods without any thought as to how those mixtures may act in the physical make-up.

How we take chances in connection with clothing and again "get away with it." How we laugh at rains and wet feet and things of that sort—and still "get away with it!"

And yet when you look over the statistics of the tolls taken by the demon of Death you soon see that eventually you don't "get away with it."

Think of the thousands of strong, healthy persons who have gone un-der because of the recent influx of little influenza germs.

It needs no scientist to show that many of them played havoc with their health, heeded no warning—and succumbed.

For a while you "can get away with it," but if you keep on laughing at danger, slapping your head muscles with a nothing-can-hurt-me attitude, there is no question that "the gods send" will get you if you don't watch out.

The most startling thing about it all is our seeming inability to realize that we may be victims and that unusual care is necessary. So we go about courting danger. And when we win the courtship we wonder at the tremendous force that has driven us down.

Most of you who have health are not realizing what a precious asset is yours. If you don't believe it, go to the home of the big dispeptic millionaire who hasn't been able to eat a square meal for years because he abused his stomach.

If you don't believe it, go into the crowded hospitals where every bed is taken.

If you don't believe it, try to hire a nurse and see how difficult it is to get one.

'Tis no idle saying, when you have your health you have everything. The word to the wise is an encyclopedia.

SALE OF CARDINALS NOT EXPECTED HERE

Facts in Case Disprove New York Report Club Will Change Hands Today.

Despite so-called "sensational developments" in New York yesterday, which among other things contained a report that the St. Louis Cardinals would be sold today, no such occurrence is expected in baseball circles here. In fact, those financially interested in the Cardinals, chief among which is James C. Jones, confess no knowledge of purported negotiations for the purchase of the club.

It is now known here upon what basis the New York report concerning the disposition of the Cardinals is founded. The facts in the case, however, are:

J. C. Jones told the Post-Dispatch on Monday that the present owners of the Cardinals were not anxious to sell and had received no offer of any sort from any source whatever.

Branch Rickey is the sole representative of the Cardinals at present in New York and Mr. Jones said positively Rickey was not authorized to conduct any negotiations for the sale of the club. Subsequent to the meeting of stockholders held yesterday, W. G. Schofield, secretary of the Cardinals, was asked if the subject of the sale of the club had been discussed and if a reported bid from Russell E. Gardner had been considered. Schofield answered that this topic was not considered in any way.

While the $50,000 second mortgage on the Cardinals matures today, no action in the matter will be taken until President Branch Rickey returns from New York. At that time, a meeting of the board of directors will be called, and the course to be pursued in liquidating the obligation decided upon. This may result in the public sale of the club in order to satisfy a foreclosure, if one is begun.

The paying off of the notes by those who endorsed them as security. The issuance of additional stock to cover the debt.

BIG LEAGUES TAKE UP NATIONAL COMMISSION REORGANIZATION TODAY

NEW YORK, Jan. 15.—The chairmanship of the National Commission was the leading topic discussed at the meetings of the National and American baseball leagues here today while the session of the minor leagues was devoted chiefly to the discussion of their demand that the smaller circuits be relieved of the draft rule. When the minors went into session the members still were firm in their declaration that the big leagues must grant their request.

The arrival here of August Herrmann of Cincinnati revived interest in the chairmanship of the National Commission. What action the delegates would take, whether they would agree to a one-man commission as advocated by some of the baseball men or retain the present commission was awaited with keen interest. Herrmann, however, declared that he did not approve of the one-man commission plan.

Herrmann also said that he was opposed to the demands of the minors for representation on the National Commission and for a voice in the affairs of the major leagues. He pointed out that the minors now had an organization of their own and said that the National Commission should simply be a court of appeals for cases their own organization could not settle.

HANK SEVEREID HIGHLY PRAISED FOR CONDUCT IN TANK CORPS SERVICE

Hank Severeid, catcher for the Browns, draws a big boost in a letter received here this week by a St. Louis friend, from Shirley F. Hunter, of the Overseas Army Reconstruction Division, Tank Corps. The reference to Severeid in the letter follows:

"Henry Leroy Severeid of Story City, Mo., who has 'taught a few' for the St. Louis American H. B. Club, is a buck private in the company of the Tank Corps. We're a few miles from the front awaiting orders to return home."

"Hank is a regular, modest individual—a true buck private who never brags of his salary in civilian life or his ability; unlike at what is before him to do and grumbles not. Few of his comrades know anything about him. His officers think highly of him."

"Whether Severeid peels 'spuds' in the company kitchen or dons overalls and uses the pick and shovel on the village streets, or drills in the mud, it's always the same, never a grumble. In fact, his attitude is an example for the rest of us. He ought to make an effort to receive an early discharge, but he wants to see to the finish with the other men who want to return home."

BAN JOHNSON SEEKS EARLY DISCHARGE OF PLAYERS "OVER THERE"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Ban H. Johnson, president of the American League, conferred with officials of the War Department yesterday relative to obtaining the early discharge from military service of baseball players now in France who are under contract with American League clubs in time to permit them to join the clubs during their spring training. While no announcement was made as to the result of the conference, it is understood that officials of the department are disposed to accelerate the discharge of the players as much as possible.

Mr. Johnson left Washington last night for New York, but will return in a few days to present to officials of the department a full list of the American League players now in France.

SPORT SALAD

THE Passing Show.

As B. B. J. predicted: Along the Great White Way, we're told. The joy is unrestricted. The fans will stage a grand hurrah. And interest will not stagnate. Because their old friend, John McGraw, is now a full-fledged magnate.

The Giants brought a million bones. According to the story: And they will leave unturned no stones. To grab the dough and glory. The citizens of Coogan's Bluff. Are very strong for Johnny. Their slogan is to treat 'em rough. And make the going bonnie.

The Cards at auction may be sold. According to a rumor: But, on the other hand, we're told. The tale may be a bloomer. There is a man in our town. Who's saving up his wages. To buy 'em for a dollar down. The rest by easy stages.

I see Queen Mary is to be a moving-picture actress. And for a dime we all may see. That public benefactress. But from a train she will not jump. To save the hero's bodice. Nor will the pesky villain bump Queen Mary on the noodle.

Novelty.

John the Barber has matched Billy Mike and Tom Cowler for a 15-round bout in Tulsa, Ok. That's fair enough. The good people of Tulsa have never seen Cowler knocked out by Mike.

When the other clubs, following the example of Cincinnati, start to squeezing the water out of their stock, there will be quite a demand for rain checks.

The price paid for the Giants is said to have been $1,000,000. Before the war they would have men of this sum with awe and the prefix of "cool."

Through the Knothole.

We take it that when the Cards are sold the knothole gang will be on the outside looking in.

See where the peace delegates are to work 12 hours daily. Wonder if they get time and a half for overtime.

No Chance.

Queen Mary may make good as a movie actress but she'll never crowd "Our Mary" off the screen.

Are You?

You were keen enough to shine in the reflected glory of a service flag when those boys went to the front to fight for you and your business. Are you holding their jobs for them? If not, why not?

A program is reported to have taken place at Breditchew. We don't know what a program is, but don't imagine it is anything like a Sunday-school picnic or Maypole dance.

TWO BOXING BILLS UP FOR CONSIDERATION BY ILLINOIS LEGISLATURE

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Jan. 15.—Two bills proposing the legalizing of boxing matches in Illinois were introduced in the upper House of the General Assembly yesterday. One measure introduced by Senator Daniel Kelly of Chicago proposes a commission of five members to be named by the Governor to direct matches by licensed club. A decision would be permitted but no bout might exceed six rounds and gloves would not weigh less than five ounces. Any club staging a boxing match would be required to pay 10 per cent of its gross receipts into the State Treasury. A secretary-treasurer of the Boxing Commission would receive $3,000 for his services, and the expenses of the commission would not exceed $10,000 a year.

The other boxing bill, introduced by Senator Patrick Carroll, also of Chicago, provides a commission of three instead of five members. No match might exceed 10 rounds, according to the bill, which is silent on the "decision" and says gloves would weigh not less than six ounces. The measure would have the club arranging the match pay 5 per cent of its gross receipts into the State Treasury.

BOXING BILL INTRODUCED IN N. Y. LEGISLATURE

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 15.—Boxing is again on its way to legislation in this State. A bill has been prepared calling for the appointment of a commissioner at $4,000 a year, who will supervise boxing of 10 rounds throughout the State.

Senator Leonard W. H. Gibbs, Republican of Buffalo, is sponsor of the measure and is said to have the support of many fellow legislators. It is known that Gov. Smith personally is opposed to boxing and would sign a measure restoring it if he were sure former evils can be eradicated.

Giants, Sold for $1,350,000, Bought for $100,000 in 1903

Value of New York National League Club Shown to Have Increased Almost 90 Per Cent of Original Purchase Price Each Year Since John T. Brush Bought It.

By John E. Wray.

BASEBALL investors appear to have no doubt of the future of the national game, but continue striding forward with seven league boots. The supreme proof of capitalistic confidence in the national game was given yesterday when three men paid a sum said to be $1,350,000 for a controlling interest in the New York Giants—an organization which does not own even the ground which its grandstand and diamond occupy.

What a tremendous advance this means may be shown by comparison with conditions that existed about 15 years ago when the club was sold to J. T. Brush by Andrew Freedman for $100,000.

In 1906 the valuable plant of the Chicago National League club was sold to C. Webb Murphy and Charles Taft for a mere $105,000. It brought $1,000,000 three years ago. In 1902 the St. Louis American League club was capitalized for $50,000 and 13 years later a controlling interest was bought by the present owners for nearly $500,000.

The National League has evidently taken Ban Johnson's cue, to wit: "Only millionaires, with other sources of income than baseball, can afford to own major league baseball clubs." In other words, both leagues seem to recognize and endorse the view that ball clubs can not be operated for profit with certainty and that they are merely amusements or playthings of men of vast wealth.

Climax for John McGraw. CHARLES A. STONEHAM and Judge Francis X. McQuade, said to be the principal investors in the Giants with John J. McGraw, are new names to Western fans. The first named is a broker of great wealth, while the latter was identified with a movement to give New York Sunday baseball.

Interest will center about John J. McGraw, however, as he will continue to be the vitalizing genius of the club, both as vice president and manager.

McGraw, since the beginning of the century, has been one of the foremost figures in the managing end of the sport. He advanced to the point where his annual income was raised to over $20,000.

As leader of a club that MUST be near the top of the procession, if the league is to prosper, McGraw has had a hard task assigned him. Only on two occasions have the Giants under McGraw failed to finish in first division—last season and in 1915 when the team finished last of the only time since McGraw took hold of it. Under McGraw it has won six pennants and one world's championship—sufficient vindication of baseball's Napoleon.

McGraw has probably prospered more than any other baseball man of his day who has led a team from the ranks. Next to Charles Comiskey he has probably made more money directly from baseball than any other former player. In his early years as manager he leads the field.

PIKEWAY TRACK TEAM PREPARES FOR MEET

Washington University Will Have Good Team Ready for Municipal Carnival.

Washington University has issued a call for track and field candidates to start training. Middle January is a pretty early date for track work at the Pikeaway school, but when it became known that the Municipal Athletic Association would sponsor a second indoor athletic carnival Coach Rutherford lost no time in counting up his forces.

And a survey of conditions brought to light the fact that only one member of last spring's squad is missing this season. Dick Kremer, weight man, is the only athlete of the team that represented Washington in the Missouri Valley Conference games in June, who will not contribute his efforts this year. Kremer is a student at the English School of the U. S. N. R. F., now located at Camp Wilson, Great Lakes.

It is expected that the authorities of the M. A. A. will provide for a few dual events between Washington and St. Louis Universities at the Coliseum carnival.

The personnel of the indoor track squad at present includes: GARTER—Missouri Valley running broad jump champion last season. Won national collegiate championship in the running hop-and-jump while attending University of Illinois. Good high jumper.

DRAKE—Sprinter and high jumper. In last year's season of the freshman squad. Entered Washington from Cascadia School in Ithaca, N. Y. While at Cascadia he was selected for special training by Jack Mookley, track and field coach at center.

While in Columbia Friday, Rutherford will reach an agreement with Missouri authorities concerning the site of the football game next season with the Tigers. If the Tigers entertain Washington at Columbia, it is practically certain that Vanderbilt will play in St. Louis. On the other hand, if the Tigers come here for the game, the Pikers will play Vanderbilt in Nashville, Tenn.

Billkens Show Tomorrow. St. Louis University's basketball players are all set for their first game of the season tomorrow night at the Armory, Grand and Manchester. McKendree College of Lebanon, Ill., will be their opponents. Coach Fisher, however, has definitely decided upon his lineup. He probably will select the men after today's workout.

Central Is Winner. Local high school boys had a rather disastrous day in basketball yesterday. Of five games played, Central alone was the winner, defeating University City High School, 30 to 11. McKinley and Yeatman were beaten.

Jackson Beats Noye. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 15.—While Jackson, the New York lightweight decisively outboxed and outlasted Johnny Noye of St. Paul, in every round of a 10-round bout here last night.

"NO SUBSTITUTE" RULE STILL STANDS; SOCCER CLUBS TAKE NO ACTION

While the passing of the substitute rule was one of the main questions discussed at last night's meeting of the St. Louis Soccer League officials, no definite action was taken. How-son at the next meeting, probably even, it was decided to resume discussion next week. While all the managers see advantages in the rule, there also are several drawbacks.

Winton Barker notified the managers that if they wished him to continue as president, the rowdism would have to be stopped. He also instructed the managers to tell their men to play the ball not the man. This came as a result of last Sunday's festive exhibitions.

Two players, O'Neill of the Innishalls and Bechtold of the St. Louis Screw Co., were suspended for their fight in last Sunday's game. Eddie Mulligan escaped with a reprimand, but was told that a repetition would result not only in suspension, but expulsion from the St. Louis League.

It was decided to allow only officials and newspaper men on the sidelines at future contests. Next Sunday's schedule brings together the Ben Milers and Innishalls in the opener and the Screws and Screw company in the second.

WILL AMERICA VIOLATE A PROMISE TO HER DEFENDERS?

A bill to rescind and abrogate the vote of the Massachusetts Legislature of last year ratifying the National Prohibition amendment has just been introduced by Charles S. Rackeman—one of that state's most prominent citizens. He feels that the vote of last year was unduly influenced by war conditions and the national prohibitionists' argument, since exploded—that "the war could not be won without national prohibition."

Similar bills to rescind former votes will now be introduced into all the legislatures that have temporarily accepted the amendment. The public will be heard on the question unhindered by war conditions. America does not want drastic war-time legislation to govern her peaceful activities.

If there were no other reason for killing national prohibition the thought that America—through national prohibition—would be breaking her promise to her gallant defenders should put every patriotic citizen and conscientious legislator on the line against ratification of the national amendment.

We sent our boys across the danger-infested seas to fight for the "freedom of the world." Nearly 2,000,000 men were in France, and there were five times as many ready to go.

They stopped the Huns at Chateau-Thierry and won the war. Is the freedom for which they fought to be taken away from them?

Ninety per cent of our boys in uniform are opposed to national prohibition. Nine out of every ten returning soldiers openly express themselves as against it. Our army was brave enough, moral enough, and dependable enough to stop the German hordes on the way to Paris, but the national prohibitionists say they cannot be trusted to drink a glass of beer or wine.

Did your boy go to France? Was he good enough to offer his life for his country? Can you trust him? Then why can't America trust him? Why is he not allowed to express himself upon the most drastic attack against personal liberty ever suggested in the history of republics? Is this the democracy for which he fought?

This editorial in the New York Herald shows that American soldiers can always be trusted to be heard, be patriotic and be understood:

"Out in Indiana soldiers returned from the battlefields in France got together, and, without too much consideration of the ethics of office-holding, forced the resignation of a County Attorney and the reinstatement in his stead of a man who has been ousted from it by the County Commissioners for the 'crime' of taking a strong pro-war position and of advocating giving a German township a good American name. The incident has more than local significance. May there not be in it a distasteful warning to politicians in all states who are taking advantage of absence in Europe of more than 1,000,000 soldiers to force through prohibition legislation and thereby deprive those absent voters of rights which they believe to be theirs?"

Every American soldier or sailor, and everybody who believes in the integrity and common sense of our soldiers and sailors, should write, telegraph, telephone or interview his or her State legislator—Senator, Representative or Assemblyman—at once, and tell him that they are opposed to the ratification of the national prohibition amendment.

You don't have to be a drinking man to be against national prohibition. Former President Taft—a total abstainer—a man of deep moral conviction and a sterling American patriot—is irrevocably opposed to national prohibition. We will mail you a copy of his full opinion—recently expressed—if you will send for it.

Interest your Legislator today; tomorrow may be too late; destroy arrogance and intolerance in America.

THIS STATEMENT ISSUED BY THE ASSOCIATION OPPOSED TO NATIONAL PROHIBITION 334 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY.

P. S.—Send us your name if you are opposed to National Prohibition. No fee. All we want is your moral support as a citizen. Thousands are joining daily.

Stories St. Louisans Tell

DR. IVAN LEE HOLT, pastor of St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church South, tells of a doctor who was graduated from college and who came to St. Louis to live. A year in the city left him a failure, so he moved to Kansas City. Success seemed just as elusive on the other side of the State, and in desperation he went to St. Joseph. The age of 30 found him living in Springfield where everyone he knew kept remarkably healthy, so he tried Carthage. At 45, in miserable health himself, he hung out his shingle in Sedalia, but to no avail. The patients never came. There he died, going straight to hell, but Dr. Holt says the change was so gradual that he never noticed it.

Have you some old Photograph, faded perhaps, or a kodak snap-shot of some one dear of whom you have no other picture?

We can work wonders with such pictures in copying them and enlarging them, incidentally improving them to a remarkable extent.

We should be glad to show you some of the work we have done, and give you an opinion of what may be done with some precious pictures you have.

Johnny Knew.

LAST summer little Johnny paid his first visit to a farm. All his life he had lived in the heart of a great city, and when he suddenly came in sight of a haystack he stopped and gazed earnestly at what appeared to him as a new brand of architecture.

"Doors and windows?" smiled the farmer. "That ain't a house, Johnny, that's hay."

"Don't try to josh me, Mr. Smith," was the scornful rejoinder of the city boy. "Don't you suppose that I know that hay don't grow in bumps like that?"—Philadelphia Telegraph.
